Thuy Demands Complete Withdrawal

PARIS (UPI)—North Vietnam's chief negotiator at the Vietnam peace talks returned today from extensive consultations in Hanoi and said his government still demands a total U.S. withdrawal from the war zone.

Xuan Thuy said the "essential point at issue is the retreat of American and other satellite forces from Vietnam, and allowing the Vietnamese people to solve their affairs themselves without outside interference."

He indicated possible flexibility by the Communists at the conference table, however, when he said "I return here with goodwill and a serious attitude." He did not elaborate.

Thuy, who left Paris May 24 and stopped in Moscow, said the North Vietnamese government had applauded his delegation for the way it has handled the peace talks, now in their sixth month.

gate accused the United States of delaying progress toward peace. "In my view there is no serious efforts on the part of the American administration," he said.

Thuy denounced the impending withdrawal of 25,000 U.S. forces from South Vietnam and said it was "aimed" only at fooling the American public. . . . to pull home 25,000 men out of 540,000 is meaningless," he said.

Since he left May 24, Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops have disappeared from some of their longtime battle-field haunts and avoided fights with Allied troops. About 18,000 North Vietnamese soldiers have pulled back into border bivouacs. Sources within the U.S. and South Vietnamese delegations said they hoped Thuy brought back definitive word on Hanoi's intentions. They said there was no doubt he carried some new approaches to the deadlocked negotiations, now in their 25th week.

His trip home was his first since the full-scale talks began. In the past, Le Duc Tho, Hanoi's man behind the scenes in Paris, made the trips to North Vietnam, and each time he returned with a change in position, harder or softer.

As usual with Hanoi diplomats returning to Paris from home, Thuy stopped off in Peking and Moscow, the feuding Communist capitals on whom the North Vietnamese depend for arms and ammunition for carrying out the war.

Flow Has Dropped U.S. military sources in Vietnam said the flow of these supplies southward into the war zone has dropped markedly in recent weeks—another sign of possible de-escalation by Hanoi.

Meanwhile ground fire shot down a U.S. observation helicopter and killed three Americans in the only incident involving GI battle deaths reported today by Allied headquarters. Lull Nears 3rd Week The lull in ground fighting approached its third week with no American fatalities reported in the shelling, combat or terrorism Friday. The downed helicopter crashed Friday 52 miles south of Da Nang.

Most of the Communist battle deaths came in two areas—the central coast where South Korean troops reported 51 slain and in the Mekong Delta where U.S. soldiers reported 56 slain in scattered fights.

The Valley's Statistics: 3 Car Deaths, 2 Drownings

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON Three auto fatalities, two drownings and numerous accidents marred the Hudson Valley's celebration of the nation's three-day birthday party which also featured fireworks, fanfare and fun.

The auto death of a Queens man in Saugerties brought the Ulster County traffic death toll to 20 just after the holiday began on Thursday night.

Albert Guidazio, 61, died when his car collided with a tractor-trailer on the Thruway.

Police said the truck, driven by Francis Spottens, 43, of Troy was passing a long line of cars when Guidazio's vehicle veered into the side of it. Spottens was not injured.

Another accident, which occurred when a car also attempted to pass two vehicles, took place just eight-tenths of a mile over the county line in Delaware County on Rt. 28. Raymond Cain, 26, believed to be from Cresskill, N.J., was killed Friday when a car in which he was a passenger, tried to overtake a car and a truck, hit the truck's left rear and spun out of control.

Coroner William Keyser ruled death accidental due to internal hemorrhaging from lacerations of the liver and lung.

The driver of the car, Robert E. McGregor, 25, of Brooklyn was treated at Kingston Hospital and released. The driver of the truck was not hurt.

In Wurtsboro, Phillip Brophy, 17 of Brooklyn, was killed Friday when his car slammed into the center mall of Rt. 17 in Sullivan County.

State Police said Brophy died in North Memorial Hospital, Middletown, after being thrown from the car.

The drowning victims were a woman and an 11-year old boy.

Police said that Mrs. Linda Brazier, 28 of Wassau, drowned in a pond near Millbrook Friday when the car in which she was riding left a dirt road and plunged into 15 feet of water.

Reportedly Mrs. Brazier emerged from the car as it was sinking, panicked and fought off a rescue attempt by a Connecticut man. The driver of the car, Mrs. Rita Rundall of Millbrook, swam to shore.

Howard Wilbur, 34, of Sharon, Conn., told police he tried several times to assist the woman but was unsuccessful. He said he dove beneath the surface when she went under but was unable to locate her.

An 11-year-old Danbury, Conn., boy drowned in Putnam Lake in Brewster, Friday, despite efforts of a New York fire captain who pulled the boy's body from the lake and administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Police said Ronald D. Wildman was swimming with a group of boys when the accident occurred. Here in Ulster County a motorcycle-car accident on Rt. 32 in Plattekill, Friday, sent Scott McDowell and Jessica Rockwell of S. Nyack to St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, where Miss Rockwell, who was a passenger on the motorcycle, was declared in serious condition.

Two Highland men were injured at 3:55 a.m. today when the car in which they were riding was negotiating a curve and went off the side of the New Paltz Road and struck a tree.

Walter Vandermark, 24, of Grove Street received lacerations of the head. His passenger, Thomas Dougherty, 32, also of Highland, sustained a compound fracture of the right leg, severe lip lacerations and multiple head cuts. Both were taken to Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

In Clintondale on Route 44-55 Friday afternoon, Willie Debow of Modena and Thomas Franklin of Clintondale were injured in a car accident. Debow sustained fractured legs and ribs and was admitted to St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie and Franklin was treated for injuries and released.

A national count taken today showed that 235 persons have been killed in traffic accidents, 61 in drownings, 13 in planes and 30 in miscellaneous for a total of 339.

Celebrations, and parades, picnics and fireworks, brightened the holiday scene in all corners of the county. In High Falls, residents observed the town's 300th anniversary with day-long events, and at Kingston's Dietz Stadium, it was standing room only for the fireworks display. In Saugerties, the annual Fourth of July Parade, sponsored by the Jaycees, attracted thousands.

Grim Holiday Nightcap: Tornadoes Take 8 Lives

By United Press International

Violent weather put nature's own nightcap on Fourth of July festivities across the Great Lakes region, leaving at least eight dead and many injured.

At least 11 tornadoes were reported in northern Ohio, the worst causing seven deaths in the Cleveland area. A twister cut across southeastern Michigan, leaving a path of destruction 400 feet wide and 1½ miles long near Whittaker, 12 miles southwest of Detroit.

Seventy-mile-an-hour winds downed power lines and trees in Manitowoc, Wis., about 60 miles north of Milwaukee.

Three persons died when a tornado struck Edgewater Beach Park, west of downtown Cleveland, where thousands of people were watching a fireworks display. Two teen-agers were killed by falling trees as another twister roared through nearby Lake Wood Park, where about 5,000 persons had gathered.

Two men in the Cleveland sighted near Whittaker injured area were electrocuted when they attempted to move wires which fell across their cars, tornado reportedly uprooted The eighth victim, a Toledo youth, was killed by a falling tree at Cedar Point Play South Central Michigan. Golf Lakes, and where it did not ground, on the eastern edge of Lake Erie.

100 M.P.H. Winds Winds up to 100 miles an hour whipped the lake into froth, capsizing some pleasure boats and sending others crashing into breaker walls. The Coast Guard sent four ships, six helicopters and six planes, called for a C130 rescue plane from New York to assist in rescuing boaters but the weather forced temporary postponement of rescue operations.

Willoughby, Ohio, in Lake County, declared a state of emergency when the storms knocked out power. Civil Defense workers evacuated families from the north side of Wooster, in Wayne County, after a deluge of rain poured as much as five feet of water into basements.

In Michigan, the twister injured several persons and destroyed several house trailers. Another teens and damaged three houses in Hillsdale County, in moving across the lower Great Lakes, and where it did not bring storms, the front carried Arbor and Pontiac and heavy sweltering heat and high rain flooded underpasses and humidity.

In Chicago, 94-degree heat and high humidity drove an estimated 300,000 persons to Lake Michigan beaches, while thousands more sought relief in city swimming pools. About 1,600 diehards toured city golf courses.

Other parts of the nation had to supply their own Fourth of July fireworks. A few showers continued into today across the Central Plains and into the Middle Mississippi Valley. Showers also fell along the northwestern border.

Very warm and humid weather continued throughout the South and Southwest. Blythe and Imperial, Calif., recorded 117-degree temperature readings Friday.

Early morning temperatures today ranged from 43 at Evanston, Wyo., to 94 at Needles, Calif.

Building to House All Faiths as One

By United Press International
In Columbia, Md., the new city which is rising midway between Baltimore and Washington, ground was broken last week for a building that has revolutionary significance for the future of religion in America.

The 25,000 square foot building will house under one roof congregations of the Roman Catholic, Jewish, Methodist, Presbyterian, Lutheran, Baptist and Unitarian faiths.

Each congregation will have its own clergy, conduct its own worship services and carry on its own pastoral ministry, just as if it were operating in a building of its own.

By sharing one physical plant, however, the seven religious bodies will be able to save an enormous amount of money which otherwise would be spent on mortgage payments, utilities, insurance and maintenance.

This money will be available for community service projects, religious education, youth activities and counseling programs. The Columbia experiment points a way out of one of the most deplorable situations in American religious life—the preoccupation of most congregations with real estate.

America's Christians and Jews now have an estimated $80 billion tied up in buildings, most of which are used only a few hours a week. And they are adding to this massive investment in bricks and mortar at a rate of $1 billion a year.

Because it costs upwards of $20,000 to build even a modest church, many congregations find themselves struggling with heavy burdens of debt. Energy and concern which ought to be channeled into the service of humanity are diverted instead into building fund drives.

The interfaith venture in Columbia shows how wasteful and unnecessary it is for every congregation to erect its own building.

The Columbia structure—known simply as a "religious facilities center"—will be constructed and maintained by a jointly owned non-profit corporation.

The pioneering design by Boston architect A. Anthony Tappe provides four multi-use worship spaces, with seating capacities ranging from 70 to 600. Thus four services can be held simultaneously. With cooperative scheduling, the center should be able to accommodate 20 or more services over a weekend.

The center also will provide office space for all of the participating congregations, and joint-use facilities for suppers, social events, education, drama and community functions.

The shared facilities concept obviously is easier to apply in an area such as Columbia where a brand new community is being built. But with imagination and daring, it also could be applied in established communities.

Lyonsville Reformed, the Rev. Harry E. Christiansa, supervising minister—Services 10:45 a.m. The Rev. George D. Wood will conduct worship.

Space Age Dialogues At New Paltz Church

NEW PALTZ—A series of dialogues, structured around the general theme of Christian Faith in the Space Age are presently being conducted Sunday morning, following worship services at the New Paltz Reformed Church.

According to the senior minister of the church, the Rev. Christian H. Walvoord, the purpose of the dialogues, which will be held weekly throughout the summer months, is two fold. "On the one hand, these dialogues are structured to foster a greater awareness within the congregation of the rigors of contemporary life," the Rev. Mr. Walvoord, says, and "one the other hand, to demonstrate that the church is a social force that ought to be used towards the advancement of freedom and equality."

Each of the weekly seminars, will convene shortly after the worship service and sermon held from 9 to 10 a.m. each Sunday.

The first dialogue, entitled The Old Bible and the New Truth, was held last Sunday and involved about two dozen churchgoers.

Subjects to be discussed at future dialogues will include such provocative topics as Praying to a Space Age God, July 6: Pastoral Symbols in the Asphalt Jungle, July 13: God and Apollo 11, July 20: Christian Service in a Socialized State, July 27; and The Backward Collar in the Forward Age, Aug. 3.

The preaching and dialogue schedule for the rest of the summer will be announced at a future date.

The Rev. Mr. Walvoord, who has been senior minister of the New Paltz Reformed Church for six months, is also executive secretary of the Reformed Church Board of Education and acting chairman of the Division of Christian Education of the National Council of Churches.

Middletown Lawyer Fined For Back Taxes

UTICA, N. Y. (AP) — A former Middletown corporation counsel, Harold B. Abramson, has been fined $10,000 and ordered to pay $8,000 in back federal income taxes with interest and penalties.

Abramson, charged with three counts of filing fraudulent income tax returns, changed an innocent plea to guilty Wednesday in Federal District Court here.

The Internal Revenue Service had accused him of filing false returns in 1959, 1960, and 1961. The IRS said he listed income during those years as $34,000 less than it was.

Abramson, also a Middletown lawyer, was indicted by a federal grand jury on April 11, 1966, while he served as Democratic corporation counsel. He had been appointed to the office in 1962. He resigned late in 1966.

Abramson also was placed on probation for five years by Judge Edmund Port. The fine was the maximum allowable.

Use, 'Take' Gain On the River Span

POUGHKEEPSIE — The Kingston - Rhinecliff Bridge was crossed by more than one million vehicles during the first six months of 1969, according to a report by the New York State Bridge Authority, here.

Traffic on the bridge totaled 1,001,740 vehicles as compared to 950,290 vehicles during the first six months of 1968.

Revenue for the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge during that six-month period was $264,134, compared to $251,904 during the first six months of last year. Traffic and revenue were up on all five spans operated by the authority which include the one at Kingston, the Mid-Hudson Bridge at Poughkeepsie, the Newburgh Beacon Bridge, the Bear Mountain Bridge and the Rip Van Winkle Bridge at Catskill.

For the first time since its construction about four years ago the Newburgh-Beacon Bridge has surpassed the Mid-Hudson Bridge traffic. Figures for the month of June show that the Newburgh Beacon Bridge had 462,042 crossings compared to 447,745 for the bridge at Poughkeepsie.

The overall six month review still shows the Poughkeepsie Bridge the leader in traffic with 2,468,603 crossings compared to Newburgh's 2,372,784. The Newburgh-Beacon Bridge, however, collected some $20,000 more in tolls than the Poughkeepsie Bridge's $634,058 for the January to June period.

The Rip Van Winkle Bridge showed 728,508 crossing for the six-month period of 1969 compared to 690,787 for the same period last year. Revenues for that period were up to $221,579 as against $209,022 for January-June, 1968.

Orange Blossoms and Rice for Radiant Brides

MRS. FRANCIS GARY AIDALA

MRS. RICHARD W. ACKERT (Lakeside photo)

MRS. JAMES GREGORY MAINES

MRS. BEN YAMAGATA

Miss Judy Dianne McGowan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton L. McGowan of RD 1, Kingston, exchanged nuptial vows with Francis Gary Aidala, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Aidala of 124 South Manor Avenue, Kingston, on Sunday, June 22, at St. Joseph's Church, Kingston.

The Rev. Lawrence Quilty officiated at the double ring ceremony. James Sweeney, organist, accompanied Donald Sweeney who sang traditional wedding selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected an A-line gown of organza with a stand-up collar, bishop sleeves, and a circular train featuring re-embroidered Alencon lace and highlighted with pearls. Her silk veil framed an organza floral hat with long floral tassels. She carried a nosegay of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. J. D. Escoe of Atlanta, Ga. served as matron of honor for her sister. She wore a soft pink A-line gown fashioned of Serrano and silk chiffon with high beaded collar and cuffs. A floral crown with long floral tassels served as her headpiece and she carried a nosegay of pink and aqua daisies.

Attendants were Mrs. Peter Gaidies, Miss Sharon Elliot, Miss Donna Aidala, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Dennis Elmendorf, all of Kingston, and Mrs. Charles Staccio of St. Remy. Their gowns and headpieces were fashioned identically to that of the honor attendant and they carried nosegays of aqua daisies.

Miss Cathie Escoe, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Her gown was styled similarly to those of the other attendants and she carried a basket of pink and aqua daisies.

Charles Staccio was best man. Ushers were Paul Woiitasek, John Coffey, George Nagy, Charles Tiano, all of Kingston, and Dennis Bart of Esopus. Ken Escoe, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

After the wedding, a reception for 140 guests was held at Capri '400' Restaurant, Port Ewen.

For her wedding trip to Daytona, Fla., the bride chose a yellow dress with white accessories.

The bride was graduated from Kingston High School in 1965 where she received a cosmetology diploma and is employed at Stylorama Beauty Salon. Her husband, an alumnus of Kingston High School, attended Ulster County Community College, and is a member of the Army Reserve. He is employed at IBM.

The couple will reside at 590

Kiersted Avenue, this city.

St. Mary's Church, Kingston, was the setting for the wedding of Miss Jan Darling Merikle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Merikle of 287 Lucas Avenue, Kingston, and Richard W. Ackert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert J. Ackert of Cottage Row, this city, on Saturday June 21.

The Rev. Edward I. Farrelly officiated at the double ring ceremony. Theodore Riccobono, organist, provided traditional wedding selections. Gold vases of white gladioli and white chrysanthemums decorated the altar and white satin bows marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an organza gown styled with a Venice lace bodice. The floor-length skirt and chapel train were edged with wide banding of matching lace. Her silk illusion veil was shirred to a stylized headpiece centered with aurora crystals. She carried a cascade of white daisies and baby's breath.

Mrs. Joseph Misasi Jr. of 208 Downs Street, this city, was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a gown of lime green in the empire style. The neckline and hem were encircled with ruffled self-fabric and she wore a stylized headpiece in matching color. She carried a cascade of white daisies and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were the Misses Constance R. Berardi, and Carol A. Ackert, sister of the bridegroom, both of Kingston. Their maize linen gowns were styled identically to that of the honor atendants and they carried nosegays of white daisies with streamers.

Miss Gina M. Misasi, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a lime green gown. A halo of natural white daisies served as her headpiece and she carried a small nosegay of white daisies with streamers.

Bruce Ackert, brother of the bridegroom, Kingston, was best man. Ushers were Robert Toffel and Michael Bradley, both of Kingston.

After the wedding a reception for 100 guests was held in the Senate Room of Kirkland Hotel, this city.

For her wedding trip to Daytona Beach, Fla., the bride selected a lime green dress with white trim and matching accessories and a corsage of white roses.

The bride, a graduate of Kingston High School, is employed at New York Telephone Company, this city. Her husband, an alumnus of Kingston High School, attended Ulster County Community College, and is employed by IBM, Kingston. He is a member of U.S. Army Reserve.

The couple will reside at 173 Mary's Avenue, Kingston.

Miss Carolyn Ann Rothrock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Rothrock Sr., 33 Village Drive, Saugerties, became the bride of James Gregory Maines, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Maines, Malden-on-Hudson, on Sunday, June 15, in St. Mary of the Snow Catholic Church, Saugerties.

The Rev. Joseph Hamilton officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Nan Dickman provided traditional wedding selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an Empire style gown of imported linen with appliques of baroque lace. The skirt was A-line and featured a chapel length train bordered with matching lace. The silk illusion veil was shirred to a Camelot cap edged with daisy motifs.

Mrs. Barbara Rothrock, 68 Wyllie Street, Schenectady, served as matron of honor for her sister-in-law. Attendants were Miss Claudia Schmid, Malden-on-Hudson; Miss Sally Shields, 35 Village Drive, Saugerties; and Miss Carol Caffrey, 115 Washington Avenue, Kingston. They wore sheath style gowns of linen, fashioned with scooped necklines and abbreviated sleeves.

The Empire waistlines were encircled with Venice daisies and they wore daisies in matching colors in their hair. The honor attendant wore a deep pink gown and the attendants wore light pink gowns. They carried baskets of pink daisies with pink and white sweetheart roses.

Richard Lavigne, 204 Ontario Street, Albany, was best man. Ushers were Donald J. Rothrock Jr., brother of the bride, 68 Wyllie Street, Schenectady; Carol Mehlig, Barclay Heights, Saugerties; and Richard Buono, Robinson Street, Saugerties.

After the wedding ceremony, a reception for 120 guests was held at the Flamingo Restaurant, Saugerties.

The bride wore a white linen sheath dress with a navy blue linen coat and white accessories for her wedding trip to Cape Cod.

Mrs. Maines is a 1965 graduate of Saugerties High School. She is employed by Metropolitan Life Insurance, Records and Service Center, Kingston.

Her husband was graduated from Saugerties High School, Class of 1961. He served four years with the U.S. Marine Corps and is employed by Charles Abbott, electrician.

The couple will reside at Malden-on-Hudson.

Miss Barbara Lou Kleine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Charles Kleine of MacDaniel Road, Shady, became the bride of Ben Yamagata, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Yamagata of 10 Paul Street, Blackfoot, Id., at the Memorial Church, Cambridge, Mass., on Saturday, June 14.

The Rev. Charles Leps officiated at the ceremony. Dr. Mimi Ferris of St. Louis, Mo.; Joan Flamm of New York City; and Christina Kleine, sister of the bride. Their empire peau de soie gowns in pale pink, featured high ruffles at the necks and hemlines. They carried cascades of pink roses and lavender status.

Miss Debbie Yamagata, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Patricia Lieto of Granite Springs, cousin of the bride, were flower girls. They wore white ribbed silk dresses, trimmed with vertical bands of pink Venice lace and they carried baskets of pink roses and lavender status.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a silk organza princess gown, fashioned with a Victorian neckline, banded with hand applied grape Venice lace, and long sleeves. The gown and chapel train featured vertical bands of hand applied grape Venice lace. Tiers of French illusion veiling was shirred to a profile crown of matching lace and she carried a cascading bouquet of white

Fabiano - Bertone Nuptials Told

Miss Linda Jean Fabiano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fabiano, 30 Fair Street, Kingston, became the bride of Carmelo Bertone, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bertone, 16 Glen Street, Kingston, on Sunday, June 22, in St. Joseph's Church, Kingston.

The Rev. Father Quilty officiated at the double ring ceremony. James Sweeney provided traditional wedding selections. Arrangements of white gladioli and pompons decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown of silk organza over taffeta. The gown was designed with a jewel neckline, a fitted bodice, slightly belled skirt, and long tapered sleeves. The entire gown was applied with Chantilly lace. A chapel length mantilla of matching lace served as her headpiece and she carried a cascade of white carnations.

Miss Carol Fabiano, 30 Fair Street, Kingston, served as maid of honor for her sister. She wore a mint green gown of chiffon over linen. The A-line gown was fashioned with an inset satin panel, trimmed with tiny buttons and edged with white daisies, in the back of the gown. She carried a fireside basket of daisies which were dyed to match the gown.

Attendants were the Misses Maria Fabiano, Glasco; Lorraine Rua, Long Island, both cousins of the bride; Patricia Scully, Smith Avenue, Kingston; and Barbara McCardle, Henry Street, Kingston. They wore apricot color gowns which were styled identically to that of the honor attendant's and they carried fireside baskets of daisies to match their gowns.

Miss Tina Bertone, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a floor-length, mint green frock of nylon, and a matching headpiece. She carried a fireside basket of daisies dyed to match her gown.

Joseph Bertone, 16 Glen Street, Kingston, served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Roland Augustine, Thomas Benicase, Harold Lemister, all of Kingston; and Albert Fabiano, cousin of the bride, Glasco. Jeffery Cole was ringbearer.

After the wedding ceremony, a reception for 170 guests was held at the Flamingo, Saugerties.

For her wedding trip to Bermuda, the bride wore a yellow two piece ensemble with white accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and is employed as a clerk-typist by Kingston High School. Her husband was educated at Kingston High School and is attending Ulster County Community College. He is employed as a barber in his father's shop, John's Barber Shop, Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Bertone will make their home at 46 Janet Street, Kingston.

Barca - Broast Wedding Told

Miss Maureen Barca, Raleigh, N.C., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barca, 386 Main Street, Saugerties, exchanged vows with James Broast, Raleigh, N.C., son of Mrs. James Broast, Germantown, on Saturday, June 21, in Saugerties United Methodist Church.

The Rev. H. B. Robinson officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. David Bright, organist, accompanied James Shier, soloist. Arrangements of white gladioli, daisies, and pompons decorated the altar and white satin bows marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a white organza over taffeta gown, fashioned with an A-line skirt, an Empire waistline, and a Victoria neckline. The bodice and long bell sleeves were of Alencon lace and appliques of the same lace accented the hemline and chapel length train. A stylized headpiece of organza roses and Alencon lace held the bride's elbow length silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade of white bridal roses, stephanotis and baby's breath accented with white satin streamers.

Miss Paula Barca, Saugerties, served as maid of honor for her sister. She wore a Nile green chiffon, A-line gown, styled with an Empire waist and billowy-chiffon long sleeves. Silk daisies accented the waist and cuffs. Her bouffant veil was attached to a large chiffon Dior bow. She carried a cascade of blue, yellow, white and green daisies with baby's breath and Nile green streamers.

Mrs. Joseph Veltrie, Saugerties, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Linda Yerry of Hurley, served as an attendant. Their lemon yellow and pale blue gowns, respectively, were styled identically to that of the maid of honor's. They carried cascades of daisies and baby's breath with streamers to match their gowns.

Joseph Veltrie, brother-in-law of the bride, Saugerties, was best man. Ushers were Edgar DeWitt, Germantown; and Joseph Mannheim, Kingston.

After the wedding ceremony, a reception for 100 guests was given at the Flamingo Restaurant, Saugerties.

For her wedding trip to Miami Beach, Fla., and Freeport, Bahamas, the bride wore a navy and white ensemble with white accessories and a white sweetheart rose corsage.

Both the bride and bridegroom are employed by IBM in North Carolina. Mr. and Mrs. Broast will reside at Raleigh, N.C.

Brides Exchange Marriage Vows

Miss Diane Camille Merwin, daughter of Mrs. Adeline C. Merwin, Park Lane, Tannersville, and the late George A. Merwin, became the bride of Edward Victor McElroy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McElroy, Woodland Lane, Palenville, on Saturday, June 21, at Immaculate Conception Church, Haines Falls.

The Rev. William A. Walsh celebrated the Nuptial Mass and officiated at the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Lt. Willard George Merwin. She selected a silk organza gown, fashioned in a skimmer style. The gown featured appliques of Peau d'ange lace with seeded pearls. A full length mantilla, edged with matching lace was draped to a small pillow and she carried a prayer book covered with white roses and gardenias.

Miss Marian Merwin served as maid of honor for her sister. Attendants were the Misses Maryann McElroy, sister of the bridegroom, Palenville; Judith Marek, Median; Katharine Cook, Williamston; and Mrs. Linda Newmerson, Haines Falls.

The honor attendant wore a blue silk chiffon empire dress, featuring a chiffon train from the back neckline. The attendants wore similar dresses in pale yellow. All attendants wore shoulder length veils attached to Dior bows and carried bouquets of gladiolus.

Brian Carrol, New York City, was best man. Ushers were Jack Carrol, Keven Carrol, and Thomas O'Rourke, all of New York City.

After the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at the Marian Center, Tannersville.

The bride attended Brockport State University for two years will enter New Paltz State University as a transfer student in September where she will major in English.

Her husband attended Hudson Valley Community College, Troy, and Electrician Class A School, Great Lakes, Ill. He served two years with the U.S. Navy with a tour of duty in the Mediterranean. He is employed as a chemical technician in the research division of Ferroxcube Corporation, Saugerties.

Upon their return from their wedding trip to San Juan, Puerto Rico, Mr. and Mrs. McElroy will reside at Tannersville.

Miss Nancy Joan Culver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Culver of New Paltz, became the bride of Timothy Eugene Dykstra, son of Mrs. A. A. Dykstra, Holland, Mich., and the late Rev. Dystra, on Saturday, June 21, at the Reformed Church, New Paltz.

The Rev. Gerret Wullschlegel officiated at the double ring ceremony and was assisted by the bridegroom's brother, the Rev. Donald W. Dystra of Highland Park, N.J. Mrs. Arthur Kurt provided traditional wedding selections.

The bride wore a lace-over-satin gown, featuring a chapel length train with an over-panel of satin. She carried a cascade of stephanotis and phalaenopsis orchids with English ivy.

Miss Jane Redfern of New York City was maid of honor. She wore a floor-length yellow chiffon gown with long, sheer sleeves, a satin Mandarin neckline and matching back panel. She carried orange rosebuds and blue delphinium. Attendants were Mrs. Thomas Pyles, Roselle, N.J.; Culver, both sisters of the bride. Their pale orange gowns were styled identically to that of the honor attendant's and they carried yellow chrysanthemums, orange rose buds and blue delphinium.

Glenn Looman, Oberlin, Ohio, was best man. Ushers were Michael Manley, Columbus, Ohio; James R. Dykstra and Russell L. Dykstra, both brothers of the bridegroom of Holland, Mich.

After the wedding, a reception was held in the Fireside Room of the Reformed Church.

The bride is a 1968 graduate of Hope College, Holland, Mich. She has been teaching at Rutland High School, Rutland, Vt., this past year.

Her husband, also an alumnus of Hope College, is doing graduate work in the field of English literature at Ohio State University.

After a trip to the Bay of Fundy, New Brunswick, Canada, and a summer at Lake Pleasant, the couple will reside at Columbus, Ohio.

Inez Richards Memorial Concert

The July 6 concert in Maverick Hall in memory of Inez Carol Richards will be given by a distinguished group of musicians, all associated with the Maverick in its heyday. Present will be William Kroll, Ise Sass, David Sackson, and Cynthia Eddy Britt.

Inez Carol had a very long association with the Maverick. Most of her musical career was in concertizing at the Hall. She was part of the permanent chamber group that played regularly at the concerts. She served as accompanist to the great such as Barrere, Barzin, Kroll, Roentgen and others. She also was known as an excellent coach and teacher. After a long marriage to John Carroll, the prominent painter, she married Houston Richards, the actor. She studied at the Cincinnati Conservatory. An extremely talented student, on graduation she went to Paris. There she furthered her studies with Casadesu.

This concert will celebrate the annual return to Maverick Hall of two of Woodstock's most beloved musicians, William Kroll and Ise Sass. The favorite performers, in company with David Sackson and Cynthia Britt, will play an all Beethoven program. We all know the affinity these performers have for the works of Beethoven. William Kroll, "Fritz" to his friends and to his devoted audience, always arouses an atmosphere of anticipation in his listeners. Mr. Kroll, undoubtedly America's most outstanding chamber music performer, lived in Woodstock for many years, and was once the musical director of the Maverick. A founder of the Kroll Quartet, he is known all over the continent and abroad. The Saturday Review said: "To hear William Kroll is event of major importance."

We all know Ise Sass, and she needs little introduction to the concert goers at the Maverick. Every time she has performed she was received enthusiastically.

Graduated from the Cologne Conservatory. She has played in numerous chamber music concerts and solo recitals all over the country and she was hailed as "a sensitive pianist whose playing is marked by power, taste and refinement" by no less than the N.Y. Times.

Constitutional Convention

A drive begun in the Wisconsin Legislature to make that state the one that will clinch a call for a U.S. Constitutional Convention has made both advocates and opponents of the plan apprehensive.

Originally, Senator Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois tried to put an amendment through Congress to overturn the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote ruling. When he failed in Congress, he invoked the other method of amending the Constitution, which has never been used before. This procedure requires two-thirds of the state legislatures to apply to Congress to call a convention for proposing amendments. Thirty-three states have passed petitions. If Wisconsin does, it will be the thirty-fourth state, which is two-thirds of all the states, and the condition for amendment by convention will be complete.

However, three Federal judges are reviewing Utah's petition to call a Constitutional Convention and whether it is valid. State Rep. Brian Florence contends that the 1965 Utah Legislature lacked the authority to enact the petition. In Illinois, the House last week adopted a resolution to remove the state from the list of petitioners. Action by the Senate could cut the list and require at least one and, if Utah's petition is declared void, two states to join the petitioners.

This maneuvering reveals the bitterness that has entered into the fight. Those who want to maintain the one-man, one-vote ruling have now turned to the states to save it. There is another group which is fearful that a U.S. Constitutional Convention—the first since the original one in 1787—would open the door to rewriting it completely.

Congress is trying to protect itself against a whole revision of the Constitution, should the states petition for the convention, by restricting the action to the one subject which Dirksen had in mind. But there are no precedents or rules for a Constitutional Convention and it is just possible the delegates may take the bit in their teeth and produce a wholly new constitution by the amendment process.

Power Tool Hazards

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare estimates that power tool injuries number between 100,000 and 150,000 a year. Saws are most often involved. Drills rank second.

Some five million consumers buy power tools annually at a cost of $500 million. An independent safety engineer, after buying typical power tools and accessories in a tour of retail outlets in Los Angeles, told the National Commission of Product Safety they present unnecessary and unreasonable hazards.

Deterioration of parts and wiring, coupled with inadequate and unreliable grounding, was said to expose the user to electric shock. A simple inexpensive shock preventive—double insulation—is provided by only 5 to 10 per cent of the power tools made in this country. This safety feature is widely used in Europe.

Double insulation protects the user by shielding the part of the tools he touches from contact with parts that have a shock-producing potential. One American firm said it costs only 60 cents more for materials to make a double insulated drill than a noninsulated model. But another firm was said to make a charge of more than five times as much for its double insulated as for one without.

Power tools are almost an essential in any house that pretends to have its own shop. These revelations of the commission should lead to legislation that requires shockproof tools at reasonable prices.

Dr. Kenneth B. Clark's studies helped convince the Supreme Court to ban segregated public schools 15 years ago. Now, he has resigned as trustee of Antioch College in Ohio to protest the exclusion of whites from the college's black studies institute. Civil rights works both ways.

Americans have so much money to spend, that imports topped $3 billion in April for the first time in history. Imports hit $3.3 billion. Exports meantime, despite the hangover of the dock strike, which held back shipments, reached $3.4 billion. Trade balance remained in surplus.

Unlike their last two predecessors, President and Mrs. Nixon are not millionaires. Their net worth is about $596,000 and it is mostly in their two homes in Florida and California. They owe $383,500, mostly in notes and mortgages on their homes. They should appreciate the trials of the middle class.

Attorney General John N. Mitchell is right in opposing withdrawal of aid to colleges and universities that do not head off student disorders. That would play into the hands of the militants by depriving innocent students of higher education. Hit the militants, not all students.

Robert Taylor, the veteran moving picture actor who died of cancer at age 57, knew for some time of the malignancy. He also knew the cause: He said he had been a "three-pack-a-day man" for some time. He quit just before his right lung was removed last October, too late for a cure.

David Lawrence Says

Public Doesn't Recognize What Goes On in Congress

WASHINGTON — There is a tendency nowadays, not only in Congress but in some sections of the press, to exaggerate trivialities in the administration's exposure to the public from day to day and to fail to recognize what is really going on in Congress today.

Instead of making a fuss over whether the President expressed a "hope" or made a "commitment" to get the troops out of Vietnam, and instead of placing so much emphasis on his decision to appoint one doctor rather than another to be an assistant secretary in a Cabinet Department, more consideration might be given to the damaging effects of our present system of government.

For today a majority of the House of Representatives and of the Senate is of one party, while the President is from another. Less than a year hence, all members of the House and a third of the Senate will be beginning their campaigns for reelection in November 1970. The major question before the country may well be whether the chief executive was or was not obstructed and prevented from carrying out needed reforms because of an indulgence in sheer political chicanery by the opposition party.

Unfortunately, a large proportion of the voters are not informed on the way politicians function. Individuals in public office or seeking to gain seats in Congress often appeal to the ignorant voters — and even to others — on the basis that the other political party hasn't achieved the impossible. Yet, in the Southeast Asia situation, peace depends on our adversaries, too, and not just on the United States alone.

Obviously the Vietnam War will be a big issue in the 1970 campaign if the conflict is prolonged through that year because many critics of the President have given the impression that the United States is willing to settle for a peace at any price.

Senator Carl Curtis, Republican of Nebraska, appealed this week for national unity behind the President's policy and asked that public officials restrain themselves. He said:

"I do not suggest we abolish criticism. I do suggest that restraint is a virtue. I do suggest that there is a time and place for everything, and by the same token there is a wrong place and time for everything."

Personally, I doubt the wisdom of public utterances that can have no other effect than to discourage those who must bear the brunt of our war in Vietnam and encourage those forces that are melting out of American boys on the field of battle.

Certainly on international issues there ought to be more evidence of unity than has been witnessed in the last six months. Many members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee itself, which is known throughout the world as an influential body, have been sniping away at President Nixon. This merely serves to weaken the President's position in the world, particularly in the negotiations at Paris.

Both the American and Communist conferees now concede that the peace talks have become completely deadlocked. A North Vietnamese spokesman says:

"Mr. Nixon is trying to create false hope to assuage the rising current of public opinion against him."

There is talk now of another offensive by the Communists in South Vietnam, and the whole situation indicates that the position of the United States at the negotiating table has been weakened by the criticism back home.

On domestic issues, the lineup of the parties in the House of Representatives this very week — in voting on an extension of the tax surcharge — reflects even more the confusion and disunity that prevails in Congress as some of the gravest problems of the century await legislative action.

In the vote in the House on the Surtax bill, the Democrats recorded 75 per cent of their party against the measure, while 80 per cent of the Republicans voted for it. Had it not been for a minority of Democrats forming a temporary coalition with the Republicans, the measure, which is designed to curb inflation, would not have passed. This is not a system of party responsibility, as neither party apparently could obtain a majority of its own.

Russians Debate Bombing Red China's Nuclear Facilities

By RAY CROMLEY

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — It has now been learned that a number of years ago the leaders of the Kremlin seriously debated the preemptive bombing of Lop Nor and other Communist Chinese nuclear facilities in Sinkiang Province.

The story is going the rounds in Western diplomatic circles that Nikita Khrushchev was ousted in part because of the role he played in this fight. Khrushchev reportedly was for the bombing. But in that round, the doves won.

There is some evidence reaching here (in very small dribbles to be sure) that this same debate is now against going on within the Soviet Politburo.

The Red army's voice is stronger now. But the operation would be infinitely more difficult than in Khrushchev's time. Mao Tse-tung has dispersed his nuclear and missile facilities widely. He has moved crucial sections of his operations underground and strengthened them against bombing and blast.

Any aerial raid on Communist China's critical nuclear and missile works today would almost certainly have to use hydrogen weapons. The raids would need to be extraordinarily precise. A list full of bombs or missiles would be required. The operations would have to keep fallout at very low levels.

(The high winds move East. Any appreciable fallout would have strong effects in North and South Korea, Japan and the United States.)

Pure reasoning would seem to indicate that under these circumstances the Russians would not carry out such an operation. But such logic proved wrong when applied to the intelligence indicating a Russian invasion of Czechoslovakia last summer.

The stakes are high. It is not the Sino-Soviet border clashes over disputed territory that causes bile to rise in Kremlin throats. It is that Russia's leaders feel they are faced almost daily with some new evidence of Red Chinese "blackmail." The Soviet Union has made this plain in secret communications to some friendly and some neutral governments.

When Moscow moves in Eastern Europe, as in Czechoslovakia, Peking threatens military reprisals in Asia. China is using its underground to conduct the Soviet Union in the delicate Middle East.

Peking infiltrates revolutionary cadre into Soviet border provinces and vowed to develop "Vietnam" in the Eastern reaches of the Soviet empire.

The situation is bad in 1969. It will become "impossible" by 1975 when Red China may have 15 intercontinental or submarine-launched nuclear missiles.

With 15 well-placed ICBMs, Red China could take out a tenth of Russia's population and close to a third of her industrial capacity.

Because Red China's population is so dispersed and because (as the U.S. discovered in North Vietnam) an agricultural country is relatively less affected by industrial destruction, Moscow would have no credible retaliatory threat to offset Red Chinese blackmail.

On balance, some top analysts here are convinced the Soviet Union will in the end decide not to risk this operation. Other equally competent men have their fingers crossed.

But there's a wide and considered belief the Soviet Union must do something militarily or politically. The situation is not one that Russian leaders in the past have been willing to tolerate for long without some major attempt at a solution.

Drew Pearson Says Jackie Was a Good Mother; Debate Over Surtax Was Hot

WASHINGTON — The inside story of Jackie Kennedy and her attempt to sell gifts from foreign potentates had a ring of truth in it, as told in the Ladies Home Journal by Mrs. Mary Barrell Gallagher, Jackie's former personal secretary.

On the other hand, the statements that Jackie did not pay sufficient attention to her children lacked the ring of truth. When JFK was a Senator, Jackie could be seen on the Georgetown playgrounds with her daughter Caroline almost every day.

The temptation on the part of First Ladies to use the sometimes magnificent gifts from foreign monarchs was not confined to Jackie alone. She kept the diamond, emerald and ruby necklace given her by the President of Pakistan, valued at around $250,000, and Mrs. Eisenhower kept several beautiful gifts, one a solid gold mesh bracelet given her by the King of Saudi Arabia.

Mrs. Roosevelt was given a giant aquamarine by the government of Brazil, and at one time she asked the late Bernard Baruch to talk to Tiffany's as to whether it could be divided up into smaller pieces and sold for the benefit of her children.

After publication of her plan in this column, Mrs. R. reacted quickly. She did not go through with the sale. Some years later, when I was visiting Hyde Park, she carefully pulled out a drawer to show me that the Brazilian aquamarine was still intact.

Once when I suggested that Jackie sell her beautiful Pakistani necklace at auction in order to raise money for Washington's badly neglected orphanage, "Junior Village," she chided my wife that she was going to do with the necklace. "I'll give it to you," she said. Jackie, however, still has the necklace.

Acid Tax Debate
Some of the hottest parts of the fast-moving debate to continue the surtax were left out of the headlines. At one point, Rep. John Byrnes, R-Wis., who was leading Nixon's fight, hit back at charges that he opposed needed tax reforms while supporting the surtax.

"They (surtax foes) claim that unless this bill is held hostage we are not going to have any tax reform," declared Byrnes. "Do they have a scintilla of evidence to support this assertion? Absolutely not."

I happened to make a study of the (reform) bills filed and not a single one came from your side of the Ways and Means Committee," said back Rep. Charles Vanik, the Cleveland Democrat. Byrnes was indignant. His voice shook with emotion. Pointing his finger angrily at Vanik and Rep. Martha Griffiths, D-Mich., he scolded: "I am amazed at the gentleman from Michigan suggesting that there is something wrong because we have not brought any (reform) proposals to a rollcall vote (in the committee). If the gentleman suggested a proposal I am sure the committee considered it."

Mrs. Griffiths rushed down the aisle and seized the microphone in the House well. "Oh, sir —" she began. "I do not yield to the gentleman until she asks me to," interrupted Byrnes. "Impolite!" chided Vanik. "I yield to the gentleman," Byrnes changed his tune. "I have offered any number," said Mrs. Griffiths. "I offered to cut the oil depletion allowance 7½ per cent. And how did you vote?"

"He voted no," replied Vanik on behalf of the silent Republican.

"You voted no, and you know you voted no," emphasized Mrs. Griffiths. "Let me give you another instance. I offered to knock out the oil-gas pipeline exemption."

She referred to a special exemption that would have saved pipeline companies millions in taxes, had they been excluded in the repeal of the 7 per cent investment credit. "How did you vote?" she asked. "You voted no."

"The gentleman knows that the amendments she offered were amendments to this surtax bill and were not offered as part of the reform package," alibied Byrnes. "We were working on the tax code, and they were germane to this bill," replied the lady from Michigan. "I offered the amendment to cut off the oil and gas pipelines; this was germane, and this would have saved some money. We are creating a tax loophole."

"I have listened and I have learned not to get into an argument or a discussion with a lady, because it is quite apparent that you cannot win," concluded the leader of the GOP tax forces.

President Nixon has told friends that he is determined not only to pull out of Vietnam but not to get involved in another Vietnam. We have become so bogged down in Vietnam that we have been unable to respond to threats elsewhere in the Far East, he says.

Nixon would like to build up a reserve striking force in the Pacific that would be ready to react at once to a crisis. As the first step, he intends to restore the combat forces that used to be stationed in Okinawa and Hawaii. The troops being withdrawn from Vietnam will probably be kept on a standby basis in Okinawa and Hawaii. This doesn't mean Nixon intends to use them at random. He doesn't want to get drawn into any more Vietnams and has notified the Thais that they should expect to defend their own country from Communist infiltration.

Henry J. Taylor Says Communists Pillage Countries

WEST BERLIN — All that has happened here throughout our 20th Century has been at great, horrible, irredeemable cost to us. Yet — irony of ironies — nowhere on earth is our country more committed than to the survival of this former enemy capital.

While we were holding the German forces on the west we were encircled by the Russians from the east. The Iron Curtain in Europe is the line — past of it only 93 miles from the Rhine — to which the Red Army marched and where it has remained. Then by assassinating all resistance, the Reds taught populations not to mistake their liberators for friends.

Said Stalin: "Everyone imposes his own system as far as his army can reach." Vishinsky, pounding the table, reminded the postwar Rumanian government to this as Red tanks ringed Bucharest. And if reconquest is required, reconquest is ordered as in the reconquest of Hungary and Czechoslovakia — pronto.

We ceded to the Soviet provinces of Thuringia and Saxony in exchange for a section of Berlin. And on August 2, 1945, at Berlin the Kremlin pledged "uniformity of the German people" throughout Germany. By June 24, 1948, they had blockaded Berlin and we had to operate the "Berlin airlift" to keep the free area of this city from starving.

By winning out on this our great country proved to Europe and the world that communism is neither invincible nor inevitable. Had we not met and won out against this Red challenge there would most certainly not be a free Europe today. The millions over here may properly bless the United States.

Communism put up the Berlin Wall on Sunday, August 13, 1961. The Reds were forced to because 12 million people moved from behind the Iron Curtain from the end of World War II until the Berlin Wall went up. Given a free opportunity to leave, the number would be astronomical.

Communism is not only a moral problem, it is a police problem. More than a million desperate Hungarians fled Hungary when the Reds took over and during the reconquest. A full 200,000 are to this day seeking safety in Switzerland alone, and our own immigration quotas were specially lifted for them. This million is equaled by people who fled Czechoslovakia, Poland, Rumania and Bulgaria, where fear rises like a black gas.

Four million Koreans fled south when the Reds seized North Korea. A million Vietnamese fled to South Vietnam when Ho Chi Minh took over North Vietnam. Thirteen million Chinese fled the mainland to Formosa when Red Mao Tse-tung took over. Hong Kong alone has absorbed more than a million escapees from Red China.

And recently 185 overseas Chinese organizations, representing 17 million overseas Chinese in 47 countries and territories, signed and advertisement they ran in our national press opposing admission of Red China to the United Nations, and thus "to refrain from giving and comfort to Mao."

Look at Cuba where a glance from Castro can mean a bullet and a coffin, with a funeral to order. Countless Cubans have braved every horror to leave, and for each one who made the escape safely an estimated four have died. Nearly 50,000 Cuban refugees are scattered throughout our country alone. A full 200,000 are waiting to leave. Only 1,000 a month can go.

There are nearly seven million first-generation immigrants from Iron Curtain countries now in the United States.

You have only to stare across the wall here to realize that Communists do not govern countries; they pillage them — morally, ethically, economically and spiritually. And I wish you had been with me when I interviewed an East Berlin escapee. "The Communists are people," he said, still trembling. "But they are a horribly repulsive kind of people, unless you can stand liars and traitors or the sort of coward who keeps silent when his friends or family are taken away to torture or execution, as happens wholesale."

It is a pity that more of our mistaken intellectuals, confused churchmen and talking - writers - debating professors who always seem to come down on the soft side about Communist imperialism do not come here. For every man has a right to his own opinion, but no man has a right to be wrong in his facts.

Mets Take Two From Pittsburgh, 11-6, 9-2

AND THE WINNER IS — Houston's Gary Geiger wins a race to base from San Diego Padre Pitcher, Al Santorini in 5th inning after bouncing to first baseman Nate Colbert. Geiger then scored on a double by Doug Rader. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Reggie Quiet, Yanks Split

By United Press International

Reggie Jackson watched quietly as the Minnesota Twins slugged their way into a first place tie with the Oakland Athletics in the Western Division.

The Athletics' musclemen, who have slammed 33 homers and is far ahead of the record pace of Babe Ruth and Roger Maris, was limited to a double Friday by Bob Miller as the Twins clobbered Oakland 10-4 behind home runs by Harmon Killebrew, Leo Cardenas and Rod Carew. The victory moved Minnesota .004 percentage points behind division leading Oakland.

Miller, a veteran relief pitcher who was making only his third start of the season, survived a four-run ninth inning as he won his record at 22. He was staked to an early three-run lead when doubles by Ted Uhlaender and Tony Oliva scored one run and Killebrew followed with his 20th homer of the season.

In other American League action Detroit defeated Baltimore 4-1 in a game halted after 4 1/2 innings because of rain. Washington downed Boston 5-1 before dropping the nightcap 7-4. New York edged Cleveland 5-4 before the Indians rebounded 4-1. Kansas City swept Seattle 13-2 and 3-2 and California downed Chicago 7-3 before losing the second game.

Norm Cash's three-run homer in the first inning was the key blow in the Tigers rain-shortened victory over the Orioles. Mickey Lolich chalked up his 11th victory against a single loss as he allowed only a solo homer to Frank Robinson in the fifth inning.

Gene Michael and Bobby Murcer helped Fritz Peterson to his ninth victory as they each drove in two runs in the Yankees' first game triumph over the Indians.

But a two-run homer by Ken Harrelson off the left field foul pole and a two-run double by Tony Horton enabled Cleveland to gain a split of the doubleheader. Juan Pizarro PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Al eighth, posted his 13th victory Weis, who entered the double against three losses.

Bobby Pfeil walked and Cleon Jones doubled to start the rally Friday to lead the New York Mets to 11-6 and 9-2 victories over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

In the opener, Weis' two-run double climaxed a four-run fifth inning that helped Tom Seaver, relieved by Cal Koonce in the runs in the opener with his 12th homer of the season and a triple highlighted a five-run first inning. Agee singled, Art Shamsky walked and Garrett beat out an infield hit to fill the bases. Ed Kranepool walked, forcing in a run, and another scored on J.C. Martin's infield hit before Weis tripled in two

The Mets added another run in the second on Agee's single, a sacrifice and Shamsky's solo homer in the third. Cardwell hit his third victory against nine losses. Consecutive singles by Pfeil, Jones, Shamsky and Garrett drove in two more runs in the ninth.

Willie Stargell, who hit his 12th homer in the opener, triple in a run for Pittsburgh in the second game.

County Tennis Tourney Set Aug. 6

KINGSTON

All champions are expected to defend their titles in the 1969 Ulster County Tennis Championships which get under way Wednesday, Aug. 6, at Forsyth Park. The tournament is sponsored by the Kingston Area Tennis Association.

Pete Zeeh, a triple crown winner in 1968 in the men's single, men's doubles and mixed doubles heads the list of entries. His brother Bill, recent winner of the crack Pownall Club Invitational, is another strong contender.

The brothers Zeeh are defending doubles champions, while Kitty Fowler and her sister, Barbara Badala too, are women's champions. Miss Fowler and Pete Zeeh share the mixed doubles crown.

First Round Matches

First round matches start Wednesday, Aug. 6, at 5:30 p.m. Each player will receive a printed schedule by Aug. 4, indicating the day, time and court for the first round in each event. Courts other than Forsyth Park will be used for the preliminary rounds.

Deadline for entries is July 28. The finals will be played Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 23-24 at Forsyth Park. Trophies will be awarded and refreshments served.

Henry A. Sykes, second vice president of the organization, is the tournament chairman. Other members of the tournament committee include Nick Fowler, Ray Lauterbach, Tish Meyers, Avery Smith and Dick Smith.

A new record for entries is anticipated. KATA reported an all-time membership of 82 with the list still growing. A large number of unattached players are expected in the field.

Tournament Growing

"The tournament has been growing rapidly in recent years," said chairman Sykes, "and we expect a new record this year. Competition is at a peak and we invite all county players to compete."

All tennis players working, residing or studying in Ulster County are eligible for the tournament, Sykes said.

All matches will be played on a best of two of three sets basis and all players are expected to play in the traditional white tennis attire.

The KATA organization for the year is headed by William Spangenberg of West Hurley, president; Dick Smith, Kingston, first vice president; Henry Sykes, Woodstock, second vice president; Ray Lauterbach, East Hurley, secretary and Daisy Beal, Woodstock, treasurer.

Directors are: Nick Fowler, Marshall Lipton and John Roberts of Kingston; Joe Hevesi, West Hurley; and Tish Meyers of Hurley.

New Windsor Youth Is Medalist With 73

By MORT LAFFIN

POUGHKEEPSIE—Gerry Impellitteri, 17-year-old New Windsor resident, carded a three-over-par 73 at the Dutchess Golf and Country Club Thursday to take low-medalist honors in the area qualifying round for the New York State Amateur Championships. The tourney will be staged at Elmira from July 23 to the 27. The young graduate of St. Patrick's High School in Newburgh hit 38 on the front nine and then carded two birdies in the back nine with a 35.

Impellitteri hit his first bird on the 550-yard par five, 12th hole as he was off the tee about 250 yards. He then hit a three iron just short of the front-side of the green, chipped to within six feet of the cup and then holed the putt.

His other birdie was on the par-three, 155-yard, 15th hole, man to ever win the Australian hitting a six iron to within seven feet and canning the putt. Gerry said after all the scores were in that he figured he would be one of the qualifiers if he broke 80.

"That's really all I wanted to do here at Dutchess," he said, "but of course I'll be looking forward to playing in the Amateur. I wanted to play this course conservatively and I did game. Both men are pros at the West Point course, where Abbott, Poughkeepsie, 74; Rich Gerry is a scratch handicapper. He is a four at the Osiris Country Club in Walden, making his handicap two.

Comments State
UR for Policy
On Supervision

COOPERSTOWN—Charles J. Urstadt, state commissioner of housing and community renewal has commended the State Association of Urban Renewal officials for the adoption of a resolution at its annual meeting here calling for public supervision of public housing authorities and urban renewal agencies in New York State.

Urstadt said the resolution recognizes that the dual and overlapping responsibilities now exercised by both federal and state governments lead to confusion, extra paper work for already overworked public officials and a waste of time and effort at all levels of government, federal, state and municipal.

The action by the urban renewal officials complements a stand taken by state housing authorities at their spring meeting in Alexandria Bay when they recommended that the state administer federal grants for low rent public housing.

Members of the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency attended the Cooperstown meeting including James G. Connors, the agency's executive director.

Police Ask Area
Residents for Murder Clues

KINGSTON—Deputy Police Chief Julius Glassman today urged any area residents having information in connection with the homicide death of Mrs. Theresa Carpio to contact him at 331-8404. All information will be held in the strictest confidence, he said.

The deputy chief also stated there are no new developments in the case and the police department is working "around-the-clock" in its search for the slayer of Mrs. Carpio whose lifeless, burned body was found on the floor of the Circle Bar, 746 Broadway early Tuesday.

A coroner's report ruled that Mrs. Carpio was the victim of homicide by strangulation.

Fite's Opus 40 Show to Benefit Theater Group

HIGH WOODS
On Sunday, between 12 and 5 p.m. Harvey Fite's panoramic outdoor sculpture, Opus 40 in High Woods near Saugerties, will be open to the public. The proceeds from this exhibition will go to the Hudson Valley Repertory Theatre, which is a non-profit, tax-exempt regional theatre.

Opus 40 is a complex free-form sculpture which Fite is constructing in view of his house, using two tons of blue-stone from his own quarry. The number 40 refers to the 40 years it will take before the last rock is shifted into position. Today it is almost two-thirds complete and covers six acres. He has been working on it, single-handedly, for 26 years.

The fantastic, sweeping sculpture is an integral arrangement of gently graded ramps and terraces, undercut in some places by subterranean passages and steps, balanced by bridges and moats and staircases, its focal point being the monolith rearing up majestically in its center. Also embedded in the pattern of the sculpture are three sunken swimming pools.

Fite, a former professor of sculpture at Bard College, has also a love of the theatre, going back to his youth when he considered becoming an actor. Since so many people have been to Fite's fantastic work, he and Mrs. Fite, member of the board of directors of the Hudson Valley Repertory Theatre, decided with the Board that opening it to the public for an admission fee would be mutually beneficial to both the public and the theatre.

Tickets may be obtained in advance by writing to P. O. Box 268, Woodstock, N. Y. 12498.

Ross Park Plans For Kingston Beach Swims

PORT EWEN
Youngsters enrolled in the summer program at Port Ewen's Ross Park will travel to Kingston Point Beach each Tuesday and Thursday beginning the week of July 7.

All youngsters must have a written permission slip from their parents for each day they plan to travel to the beach. Youngsters must be 11 years of age or older to attend the program.

Buses will leave from Ross Park each Tuesday and Thursday at 9:15 a.m. and will return to the park at 3:15 p.m.

It was also announced that Ross Park will hold a "Na-Kockey" contest Wednesday, June 9 at the park.

Black Leopard Kills Mate

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A dozen persons watched Friday as a black leopard killed his mate at the Los Angeles Zoo. The leopard began cuffing his 4-year-old mate playfully, but a zoo attendant said the playing got rougher. Within 15 minutes he had broken the female's neck.

Zoo officials said the leopards were housed separately at night and fed separately because they are known to fight in captivity. However, they said the cats were permitted to share the same cage at other times.

Come to Hurley's Stone House Day

HARD WORK LEFT LITTLE TIME for chiseling these crude gravestone markers in the early days of the Esopus valley. Old cemetery among the birches is always a highlight of Hurley's Stone House Day.

Looking for a unique gift for a favorite relative? Fancy yourself a bit of a gourmet and have a yen to sample exotic edibles? Want to boost your house plants, humor your sweet tooth, add to your flower arrangements, find an unusual picture for that barest of walls?

If you fit any of these descriptions, and can call yourself a Civil War buff or a lover of early American artifacts, the place for you to be on Saturday, July 12 is at Hurley's STONE HOUSE DAY!

The day begins at 10 a. m. with the opening of a "Country Fair" in Hurley's Reformed Church. It'll be a fair offering anything and everything unusual; a bazaar where you'll find imported Dutch cheeses for gourmets, miniature Delft and wooden Dutch shoes for collectors, decoupage pictures for decorators, crocheted and knitted dolls and other toys for the youngster in your life, potted plants for the gardener, and toothsome homebaked goods and candies from the finest cooks in Hurley.

Little Bit of Everything

There'll be Christmas in July items, aprons (both fancy and utilitarian), toss pillows in every color of the rainbow, pot holders, bed socks and mittens (all hand made), and souvenir slides and tiles to take home as keepsakes of your day at the fair.

If you've been to Hurley's annual Stone House Day before, you'll find the fair adding to the excitement this year. If you've never visited the quaint little village on Route 209 on its day of days, you're in for quite a treat as you walk back through history. For this day only, the old stone houses of yore which are still today's private homes, are open to visitors from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Tempo suggests the following route to make your day one of the most worthwhile you've spent in many a moon:

Start the day at Hurley Reformed Church, and purchase tickets there for the tour of stone homes. But take careful note of this charming example of colonial simplicity—a church of infinite beauty built for only $2800.

From the church, travel the two blocks of Hurley's Main Street, stopping at each designated home. Inside colorfully-garbed hostesses will be on hand to tell you of each home's particular place in history. The variety of note-worthy items to be found in Hurley are too numerous to mention in entirety, but we might pique your interest by commenting upon just a few:

Slave Babies Slept Here

The parsonage, known as the Crispell home, today the residence of Rev. and Mrs. Harold F. Schadewald, contains a most unusual kitchen cupboard, said to have been used for the storage of wood and vegetables, and also as a warm, close at hand sleeping niche for slave babies.

The dining room doors in the Dr. Richard Ten Eyck home, owned by Mr. and Mrs. William Gaffken, boasts bulls' eye glass in the room's doors, placed there to forestall the machinations of evil spirits! This home was also a stop on the underground railroad, helping escaped slaves find freedom in Canada.

Mr. George Kent's "spy house," or Du-Mond House, became a prison for an unfortunate British officer, on a secret mission. There he was incarcerated after capture, and held until hanged from an apple tree in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Winter, owners of the Polly Crispell Cottage which was believed to have once been the site of a blacksmith shop, invite you to see the original flooring and beams, and the interesting pair of facing fireplaces, in this, the original "split-level".

A few steps to the rear, visitors will find the burying ground of the old settlers, where crude bluestone slabs with hand-chiselled markings bear mute testimony to those whose final resting places they guard. The earliest recorded deaths here occurred in 1715.

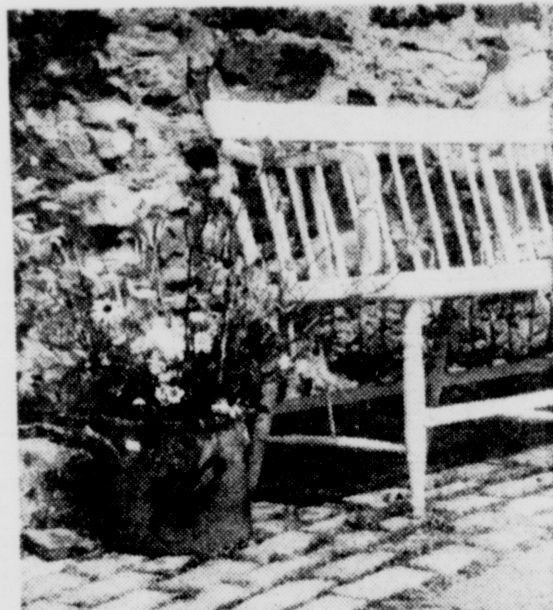

But back to Main Street and the charming home of Mr. and Mrs. George Jacobson, known as the Jonathan Elmendorf house.

MRS. JOHN HOFER will greet those taking a walk through Hurley's history before the fireplace of her home, known down through the years as the Garrett Newkirk house. It boasts a rare bee-hive oven with crane, trammel chain, andirons and other original implements. The musket Mrs. Hofer holds is a prop (albeit an ancient one), but the copper pans, pewter plates, candle molds and grid-iron are very real and very old.

SCENES SUCH AS THIS are a feature of Hurley's Stone House day. Flowers sprout from old churns, stone walls which have weathered almost two centuries look as sturdy as ever, and colonial flavor is the order of the day. Quiet Hurley turns to pantaloons and pinafores July 12 and you're invited.

INSIDE OLD NEWKIRK HOME, Mrs. Hofer uses a "peel" to place a loaf of bread in bee-hive oven. The "peel" was a universal gift to a bride in colonial times; signified domestic utility and plenty; was supposed to bring good luck. The Hofers will open their home to the public on "Stone House Day," as will many other local residents.

FOCUSING ATTENTION on beautiful and original old Dutch door, Mrs. Joseph Murphy hands orange to her daughter Nellie through two-tiered door that led from kitchen to the buttery of their home, built about 1780 and known as the Abram Elmendorf house.

Off to Olean State Pageant

Ulster County's All-American Beauty

By ALBERT J. CAWEIN

An All-American girl, beautiful, intelligent and athletic, this is the type of girl every local pageant director would like to send to the Miss New York State Pageant in Olean to represent his community.

This is the type of girl who could be Miss New York State . . . even Miss America.

This is the type of girl Ulster County is sending to Olean on July 16 when the State Pageant opens its three-day activities to select Miss New York State of 1969, and its delegate to the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City in the fall.

All and More

Diana Jean Knight, 23-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Knight of West Hurley has all the qualifications needed to win some of the fabulous scholarships offered by the State Pageant.

The level-headed, intelligent young lady, by her deeds, indicates she believes that an education is the best preparation to meet the problems of the future.

The Onteora Central School graduate (1964) is working towards her master's degree. She has been accepted for graduate study and awarded a $3,000 plus tuition assistance from the State University of New York College of Forestry at Syracuse University. She attended the school from 1964 to 1968, when she graduated.

Her talent presentation in last year's county pageant was a monologue on her experiences as the only girl in a class of men at the College of Forestry. She will do her thing again at the State Pageant with several variations and in verse.

The five-foot-eight, blue-eyed blonde is also considering part-time study at Vassar College, Poughkeepsie.

Two-Way Research

She is employed at International Business Machines Corp., Fishkill. Her work is in chemical process development which includes literature research as well as laboratory research. She likes her work because (in her own words) she is assigned a specific problem and has freedom to attempt a solution from almost any direction.

Miss Knight finds her job a challenge because she can combine knowledge, imagination and even a little feminine intuition with experimentation, she says, and best of all she likes working with knowledgeable people from whom she is always learning.

She has very definite ideas about the current problems and topics of the day.

On college unrest she says: "I think we all realize that young people are restless just because they are young. Restlessness must be channeled in some direction. A hundred years ago it may have been in the direction of diligent labor for the family's benefit. Now this is becoming unnecessary. At the same time many injustices and unpleasant situations are becoming prominent. Restlessness is being channeled into revolt. In many cases a demonstration is purposeful and I think an effective means of telling authorities there is something wrong.

"But many times demonstrators are indignantly belittling their educators. Education has rapidly become more and more liberal which I think is a good thing. But for students to demand immediate change is ridiculous and to demand that they determine requirements and methods of their own education is ignorant.

"A student usually does not have the experience he'd like to believe. Many courses, I felt, were going to be useless in my future—but I am finding it hard to admit that I spent even one hour in useless learning."

Admires Astronauts

About the moon landing she says: "I have nothing but admiration for the astronauts making these flights. It's an exciting scientific advancement. My sixth grade teacher once told our class that during our lifetime, man would land on the moon. I've always been interested in astrology and at that time I couldn't even imagine such a thing. Now it actually is happening at a time when I can understand it and I think it's exciting."

On mini skirts and dresses she says: "I think mini skirts can be worn in very good taste as long as they are not too short. When they are so short that you can't sit or bend over in them comfortably, I don't like them. I wear my skirts short, but I still feel like a lady in them. I would wear a longer skirt if the occasion demanded this. If I knew that someone present would be silently offended by a short skirt, I would be sure to wear a longer one. It's not worth it to upset someone purposely to show you can dress in style, or to be rebellious."

About marriage she says: "I am looking forward to marriage sometime in the future. I love doing things for people and devotion to a husband and family seems very rewarding. Before I actually am married though, I would like to travel more and either complete or come close to completing my work towards a master's degree.

"I think it would be very important that the man I marry be considerate and sensitive to my needs and the relationship's needs. I think I am a very active and impatient person so it would be important that he be equally active. I would hope that he enjoyed participating in recreational sports as much as I do and be exciting and diversified.

"But he must also be responsible and serious. Above all, to put up with me, he must have a good sense of humor and a good deal of health insurance for I have at least one scar or bruise for every sport I've tried."

AT STUDY the vivacious blonde illustrates her contention that education is the best preparation for her future.

AT HER HOBBY, the West Hurley beauty queen shows why she excels at dress making. She'll wear this pretty gown in the Olean competition.

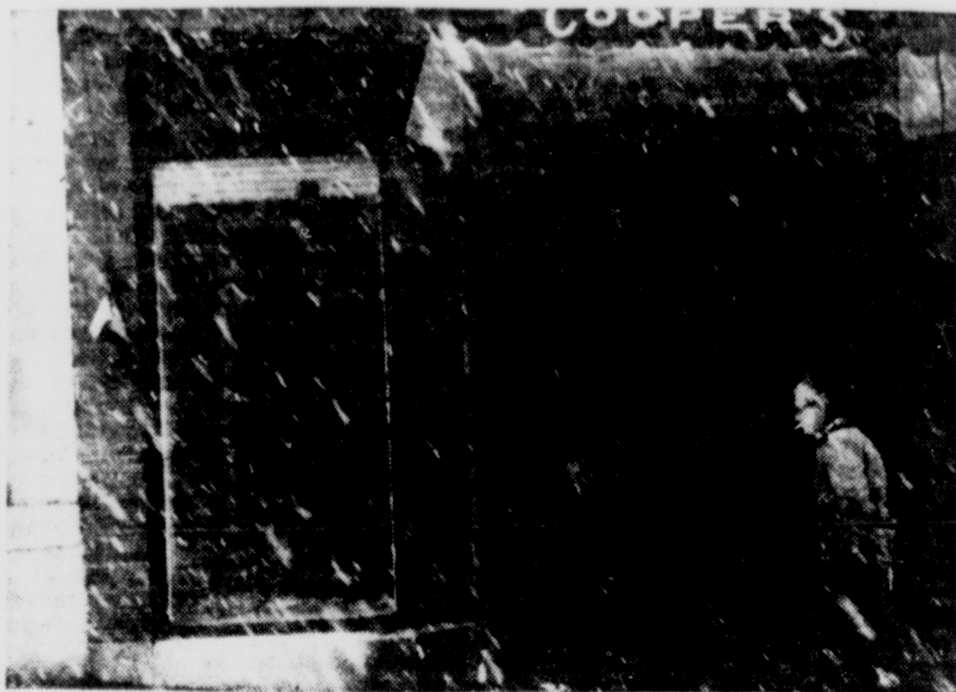

MISS ULSTER COUNTY in a regal pose, complete with crown, banner, and statuesque stance that should serve her well at Olean.

His Forte: Street Scenes and People

HANSOM CAB SLOWLY WENDS ITS WAY THROUGH CENTRAL PARK

A WINTER SNOW STORM IN RONDOUT

With an unerring eye, youthful photographer Jon Fox of West Hurley uses his camera to capture the beauty and loneliness of the landscape, and the lifeblood of the people he views through his lens.

Jon, son of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Fox (his dad is frequently photographed as the pilot of World War I planes at Rhinebeck Aerodrome) has just finished his freshman year at the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va. Still in his teens, he proves with his photographic portraits that age has little or nothing to do with talent. If his photography was mostly a hobby in the beginning, it now gives indication that the end result of Jon's work is an art form of high merit.

The people in his photographs are people all of us know, whether they are caught unawares on the street, in a market or at a picnic . . . or whether they have been persuaded by Jon to pose informally or in a strait-laced or comic stance. A Woodstock family chose to have themselves preserved for posterity with old-fashioned tintype flair. A shopkeeper whose profession is cleaning hats was committed to film wearing his own hat and surrounded by hundreds of those relinquished by customers. Whether Fox snaps his people walking in a winter snow storm, sleeping on a subway, climbing in trees, swinging on swings, engrossed in conversation at a fruit stand, intrigued with their own shadow, or shedding tears of pain, they are all the more human for the care he takes with his ever-clicking camera.

Now home for the summer, he's still snapping away, but has long since outdistanced the "shutter bug" label. Concentrating on a Woodstock photo spread (he's a graduate of Oteora High School) and the pages of a national magazine, his "realist" views of the art colony can be expected to capture the flavor of rural life as enjoyed by its children, and the more sophisticated artistic flavor of the art schools, galleries and studios.

Fun-Filled Fare on Playhouse Stage

"Cactus Flower," playwright Abe Burrows' fun-filled comedy romp which is now playing through July 6 at the Woodstock Playhouse, is an uproarious hit.

Local audiences are laughing in all the proper places and applauding this story of dashing dentist Julian Winston, played by talented George Gatto, Dr. Winston, the painless dentist supreme and a man who knows how to live it up outside the office, has two women in his life. One's his "true love" Toni and the other's his super-efficient secretary Stephanie, the part originated on Broadway by Lauren Bacall and now being created for the movie version by Ingrid Bergman. Goldie Hawn will portray Toni in the film.

What makes Burrows' play take off and fly right are the circumstances of Stephanie's transformation from seemingly severe receptionist to scintillating toast of the town.

Excellent Cast

Mary-ellen Ray is astounding as Stephanie in the Woodstock production — but you'll have to see it yourself to find out if she gets her man. Barbara Houston, already well known to area audiences after appearing in all productions there so far this year, is Toni; Ned Leavitt is her boyfriend; and Bill Metz is the delightfully wicked Senor Sanchez, who isn't fooled by Stephanie's cool exterior for one brief minute.

Credit "Cactus Flower's" spit and polish to director Harold Baldrige, and the multi transformations set wise to talented Harry Moss.

Next on the Playhouse bill, from July 8-13, is zany comedian Woody Allen's funny farce "Don't Drink the Water." An American family, the Hollanders, tourists in an unfriendly Communist country, are accused of spying. So the Hollanders — father, mother and daughter Susan — flee to the American Consulate; and there they stay, prisoners within the building. The fact that the Consulate has harbored political refugee Father Drobney for six years is not heartening. Their frantic efforts to escape remind one of a Marx Bros. movie: bombs go off, people dart in and out of doorways and corridors, there's a visiting Sultan and his harem, and Father Drobney does magic tricks. Further muddling up the scene is Axel Magee, son of American Ambassador Magee, temporarily in charge of the Consulate in dear old dad's absence. — Guess who Susan Hollander falls for?

In the cast are Stanley Brock and Jane Lloyd Jones as the unfortunate caterer Hollander and his wife; Barbara Houston is their daughter Susan. Ned Leavitt is Krojack the bad, nasty Head of the Secret Police. Droll Father Drobney is played by Harold Miller; the efficient Kilroy by Arthur Gray; Ambassador Magee by Philip Gushee. Bumbling Axel is played by Gene Nye, who Playhouse audiences will remember as Adam and Flip the Prince Charming in "Apple Tree" and Duperret in "Marat/Sade" last summer. "Don't Drink the Water" is directed by guest director George Gatto; designed by Harry Moss.

For information or reservations phone 679-2015 or write the Woodstock Playhouse, P.O. Box 268, Woodstock, N. Y. 12498.

WILLIAM METZ is a scene-stealer supreme as the delightfully wicked dental patient, Senor Sanchez, in "Cactus Flower," the current comedy offering at the Woodstock Playhouse.

Ballets Emphasize Choreography

New York City Ballet is introducing seven new ballets to Saratoga Performing Arts audiences during the 1969 Festival season. The celebrated company of dancers will be in residence at SPAC from now through Sunday matinee, July 27, after opening in a gala performance of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" this past Thursday evening.

Heading the list of premieres there will be "Dances at a Gathering," the exciting new work by Jerome Robbins which received sensational reviews from the New York press following its world premiere, May 22 at the New York State Theater. This is the first ballet Robbins has choreographed for the New York City Ballet since 1956. Termed his greatest masterpiece and ranked alongside George Balanchine's own masterpiece, "Jewels," "Dances at a Gathering" will be performed July 8 and 11.

Two of the ballet company's younger choreographers — Jacques D'Amboise and John Clifford — will have new works performed during the four-week ballet season. "Tchaikovsky Suite," by D'Amboise will be danced July 9 and 12 while "Fantasies" by Clifford, will be seen July 15 and 18.

George Balanchine, one of the world's most prolific and greatest choreographers, will have four of his ballets performed for the first time during the Saratoga season: "Four Temperaments," July 9 and 12; "La Source," July 17 and 20; "Monumentum Pro Gesualdo" and "Movements for Piano and Orchestra," July 15 and 18.

John Clifford, who joined the New York City Ballet as a member of the corps in 1966, is fast rising to the top both as a brilliant solo dancer and as an exciting choreographer. Only 23 years old, his third work, "Prelude, Fugue, and Riffs," was premiered at the New York City Ballet's gala May 8 benefit. He not only danced the lead in that work, but appeared in Jerome Robbins' own new work, "Dances at a Gathering" on the same program. Clifford's second choreographic effort, "Fantasies," was given for the first time just this past January, while his first work, Stravinsky's Symphony in C, was premiered in the spring of 1968 and seen at Saratoga last summer. "Fantasies" is set to the music of Vaughan William's "Fantasia on a Theme of Thomas Tallis." The ballet is a lyrical work about two real people and a dream couple whom the real people prefer to one another.

For a brochure giving complete programs and ticket information on The New York City Ballet, The Philadelphia Orchestra and Special Events, contact the Saratoga Performing Arts Center, Saratoga Springs, New York 12866 or phone (518) 584-9330.

From TV to Movie

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Paul Monash, producer of the defunct "Peyton Place," will produce the movie "Slaughterhouse-Five" at Universal.

Miss Universe on TV

CBS-TV will broadcast the finale of the Miss Universe 1969 beauty pageant in Miami Beach from 10 to 11:30 p.m. July 19.

Television

Jose Jimenez the Astronaut has not been forgotten. Bill Dana has received and accepted an invitation from Apollo 11 astronauts Neil Armstrong, Ed Aldrin and Michael Collins to attend their July 16 televised blastoff for a lunar landing. Incidentally, Jose is 10 years old. He was born on Steve Allen's show in the fall of 1959 and the rest is history.

In depth interview with former New York Yankee Star-turned-NBC sportscaster Mickey Mantle: Reporter: Do you like being a sportscaster? Mantle: No.

The Guns of Will Sonnet will not be on TV again in regular shows, but it's now having a "rerun" run . . . And ABC-TV's "It Takes a Thief" will be on again next season; is set for Thursday night at 10 when fall rolls around.

Fans of Mod Squad can also relax. The mod trio will be back on ABC-TV on Tuesday nights at 7:30.

This One's Unusual

"Abend on the Spot" is the newest and most unusual talk show on TV, it seems to us. There's no host, no moderator, and the chief attraction, Dr. Martin Abend, "the sage from Williamsburg, Brooklyn," takes on two opponents in a Kafkaesque setting.

Abend is an urban intellectual who lives among the poor in the Puerto Rican/Negro ghetto of Brooklyn; tends to side with the Conservatives philosophically on many critical issues. Ergo, the physical arrangement of his set reflect his defensive ideological position. His opponents sit on a raised platform behind a formidable desk while Abend sits on a stark wooden chair on ground level exposed in a pool of light. This makes him look more like the victims of a midnight tribunal than the star of his own show.

All of which makes "Abend on the Spot" a highly experimental program and one worth watching. It airs Fridays at 12:30 a.m. on Channel 5 out of New York City.

Is Dick Cavett the most personable, intelligent man on TV? Tempo certainly thinks so; wouldn't miss his shows for an invitation to the White House!

Bob Hope will appear in "Roberta," the 1933 Broadway musical that made him a star, for a TV special next season. John Davidson and Michele Lee will play the young lovers in this musical. An original cast member in the '30s was George Murphy, now a senator from California, but he's not giving up politics for show business to appear with Hope in the new version.

RANDOM THOUGHTS ON RECENT VIEWING:

CBS went all out to document one of the more important events in current British history, the investiture of Prince Charles, heir to the crown of Great Britain, as Prince of Wales. The ceremonies, carried live via satellite, were full of pomp and ceremony. Still, it all made one wonder if crowns are really necessary in this day and age.

First Tuesday gave us an interesting look at the moonshot competition. Russia's Soyuz spacecraft. Sure looked spacious and comfortable by comparison to the Apollo. Same program also had a good little Pygmalion episode showing lots of Liza Doolittles learning the language.

A show well worth watching was Time for Americans, which focused on Atlanta and how it coped with the evils of segregation. A beautiful city in the middle of an area known for its red-necked segregationists, Atlanta has succeeded in allowing blacks and whites to work side by side in harmony. Others could learn from Atlanta's example on how "It Can Be Done."

PICK OF THE PROGRAMS THIS WEEK:

Today, Sat., July 5

WIMBLEDON OPEN TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIPS (NBC, 5 p.m.). The finals of the women's single and men's doubles taped to viewers via satellite from England.

WIDE WORLD OF SPORTS (ABC, 5 p.m.). Thor Heyerdahl's new adventure, the Voyage of Ra, is covered. Extra dividend in the 11th Annual Firecracker "400" Stock Car Race from Daytona Beach, Fla.

SATURDAY MOVIES (NBC, 9 p.m.). "Sorry, Wrong Number" is over 20 years old, but it's still a classic suspense drama. Barbara Stanwyck acts up a storm as a bed-ridden wife, totally dependent on the telephone, which turns into an instrument of terror when she overhears a murder plot being hatched.

JOHNNY CASH SHOW (ABC, 9:30 p.m.). A happy blending of warm humor and foot-stomping country and western music. Cash welcomes such guests as the Cowsills, Minnie Pearl of The Grand Ole Opry, singer Buffy Sainte-Marie and Doug McClure, also singing and showing a new dimension from his "The Virginian" role.

MEET THE PRESS (NBC, 1 p.m.). Senators George McGovern of South Dakota and Harold Hughes of Iowa talk about reforming and modernizing the Democratic party.

ISSUES AND ANSWERS (ABC, 1:30 p.m.). Secretary of Transportation John Volpe discusses the nation's vast traffic problems.

TRACK AND FIELD (CBS, 3 p.m.). It's ladies' day as the Women's National AAU Outdoor Championships are covered from Dayton, Ohio.

THE $125,000 BUICK OPEN (CBS, 4:30 p.m.). The final holes of play in this golf tournament are covered from Grand Blanc, Mich.

THE 21ST CENTURY (CBS, 6 p.m.). A repeat of "The First Ten Months," dealing with medical treatment given babies in that period of time, which includes nine months in the mother's womb. Some remarkable photography here.

SOUNDS OF SUMMER (Channel 17, 8 p.m.). The Duquesne University Tamburitzans, who work their way through college by performing as a professional song and dance group at some 100 concerts each year, are seen. Veteran travellers, they'll perform folk dances from around the world.

Monday, July 7

NET JOURNAL (Channel 17, 9 p.m.). An ex-junkie and ex-convict from Spanish Harlem eloquently describes and dramatizes the life he has led there when "The World of Piri Thomas" is presented. Thomas is now a highly respected author who wrote "Down These Mean Streets" and, in this program, he serves as an ubiquitous voice, commenting on his own life and on the lives of his despairing and tragic people.

Wednesday, July 9

NET FESTIVAL (Channel 17, 8 p.m.). The uncut last TV appearance of Coleman Hawkins, the great jazz saxophonist, will be part of a special musical tribute—"Coleman Hawkins: In Memoriam (1904-1969)." Jazz greats also reminisce about Hawkins.

INTERNATIONAL MAGAZINE (Channel 17, 9 p.m.). A report on a reluctant American

Get Screen Rights

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Universal Studios bought screen rights to the Charles Webb novella, "The Last Usher."

Stefanie Guests

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Stefanie Powers, who once starred in "The Girl from U.N.C.L.E.," landed a guest role in an episode of "Lancer."

PIRI THOMAS (right), seen here with two of his "amigos" in New York's Spanish Harlem, recreates the experiences that led him from crime and drug addiction to fame as an author when NET Journal presents "The World of Piri Thomas" on Monday, July 7 at 9 p.m. on Channel 17. It's a rerun but on its first showing, TEMPO found the program to be one of the most interesting offered all season.

satellite; some comments on the resentment aroused in Okinawa from the present U.S. role there; a discussion of the recent crisis over the Pueblo; a tour of Yugoslavia; and a look at computerized ballet in London.

Thursday, July 10

HAROLD UREY: THE MAN AND THE MOON (Channel 17, 7:30 p.m.). Particularly appropos at this time since the moon journey of Apollo 11 may turn out to be a trip to the very beginning of time as well as a giant step into the future. Dr. Urey, Nobel Prize-winning nuclear chemist, explains why he thinks that debris brought back from the moon may reveal some secrets about the origin of the universe. (T. G.)

Good Vibrations

Now that a third day, Friday, Aug. 15, has been added to the schedule of the first annual Woodstock Music and Art Fair, themed "An Aquarian Exposition," additional big name British groups have found room at the top on the bill of fare.

Recently signed are The Who, Joe Cocker and his Grease Band and The Incredible String Band along with Ravi Shankar, Joan Baez, The Grateful Dead, Santana Blues Band, and Sweetwater, who will join the three-day bill, Aug. 15, 16 and 17, in nearby Wallkill, with such headline talent as Janis Joplin, Jefferson Airplane and Blood, Sweat and Tears.

The Festival, offering over 36 hours of top-rock entertainment, will be coupled with free music, poetry, and craft workshops open to everyone as well as a mammoth invitational open-air art show. Festival hours are 2 p.m. to 2 a.m. each day.

Prices for the three-day event are scaled at $7.00 for one day, $13.00 for two, and $18.50 for all three days if purchased in advance from Woodstock Ventures, Inc., Box 996 Radio City Station, New York 10019. Tickets may be purchased at the gate, if available, at $8.00 per day. Further ticket information may be obtained by calling (212) MU 7-0700 in New York City.

Drummers Make Music O'er Midway

"Music O'er the Midway" sponsored by Hudson Valley Drum Corps Association, will feature competition between 18 Drum Corps July 6 at Orange County Fair Grounds in Middletown.

Hosted by Bluebirds Drum Corps of Port Jervis, Hudson Valley Corps will be in direct competition to win the right to compete in the regional contest, later this summer. The Orange County Agricultural Society is cooperating in every way to help make this event a soaring success.

Special awards, in addition to the usual ones will be presented. The Clarence Westbrook Memorial Award will go to the Junior Corps with best overall score and will be sponsored by the Bluebirds. The Connecticut Rebels, an outstanding corps will be present and will present an award for best drum score, an individual competition for drummers. The third special award is an association award for the best score by any competing corps.

Competition will begin at noon July 6 and continue throughout the afternoon. July 13 has been tentatively scheduled as a rain day. Reserve seat tickets may be ordered by calling the Orange County Fair office. Registration of corps and individual competitors will begin at the Fair office at 10 a.m.

Chance To See '1776,' Others

The Broadway hit "1776" will be the first of five New York City shows attended by members of the Matinee Theater Course being offered this year by Orange County Community College, Middletown.

Applications are now being accepted for the course sponsored by the OCCC Woman's Program. In addition to the Sept. 24 matinee performance of "1776," the class will attend four other productions on Wednesday afternoons during the 1969-70 season. Cost for the course, including tickets and round-trip transportation, will be $60.

Interested persons may register and also indicate the shows they would like to attend by contacting Mrs. Marilyn Wheeler, coordinator of the OCCC Woman's Program, at OCCC in Middletown, telephone (914) 343-1614.

During the past year, the Matinee Theater group attended "Fiddler on the Roof," "Promises, Promises," "Hadrian VII," "The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie," and "The Price."

WORLD ALMANAC
FACTS

One of England's finest houses, Knole Castle, contains 365 rooms, one for every day in the year; 52
staircases, one for every week; and seven courts, one for each day in the week. The World Almanac notes. Since the 15th-century house was given by Queen Elizabeth I to her
Lord Treasurer, Thomas
Sackville, it has been the home of the Sackville family.

'Requiem' Crowns
Ormandy's Season

For true music lovers, the crown and climax of the 1969 Saratoga Festival is certain to be The Philadelphia Orchestra's performance of the Manzoni Requiem by Giuseppe Verdi on Thursday evening, Aug. 14.

Eugene Ormandy will conduct the first Saratoga performance of Verdi's monumental choral work, which has been described as "belonging at once to the church or the opera house." There will be four world-famous soloists: Martina Arroyo, Maureen Forrester, Richard Lewis, and Thomas Paul. The chorus of 300 voices will bring together the Capital Hill Choral Society, and the Cornell University Glee Club and Chorus.

The same choral forces were participants in the performance of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony which was the centerpiece of The Philadelphia Orchestra's first Saratoga concert back in 1966. Since then Maestro Ormandy has included at least one choral work in each of his Saratoga seasons. In 1967 both Brahms' Requiem and Handel's "Messiah" were sung by the Mormon Tabernacle Choir. In 1968 he led the Capital Hill Choral Society in the North American premiere of a setting of the 150th Psalm by South America's leading composer, Alberto Ginastera.

The Aug. 14 performance of the Verdi Requiem has been made possible by a generous gift from George E. Widener, and will be presented in memory of the late Mrs. Widener.

Berkshires-Based Author Chides
Technologists and Their Myths

HOMELAND: A Report From the Country, By Hal Borland. Lippincott, $4.50.

It is reassuring to know that the fundamentals of life remain unchanged in the world which Borland inhabits.

He is the countryman—not exactly a farmer—who has written these "dispatches," as he calls them, to let the outer world know what is going on. Readers of his earlier books will know that he lives in the Berkshires at the northwest corner of Connecticut.

These pieces are full of astute observations about the weather, the crops, the wildlife and the cycles of nature.

The Eternal Search

But they also are saturated with the philosophy of country living, and the eternal search for the basic verities. Such truths as "the miracles are in the root, the seed, the egg, not in the laboratories or the machines."

Borland refuses to accept the myths of technology, and chides the technologists for substituting techniques and data for the answers to life. He also formulates his credo, saying that the country can give a man a belief in "life and time, if nothing else. Given these, almost anything is possible that a rational man might want."

In format, these articles are based on the four seasons in each of the last five years, arranged chronologically. His observations and reflections follow the rhythms of the year, and the effect is like hearing the four movements of a symphony, orchestrated in five different ways.

Borland is a writer of sensibility and sense, and his latest reports from the country are something we really need these days.

Cantonment Sets
Nathan Hale Day

Nathan Hale, the famed American Spy, is honored for his part in the American Revolution, and membership in Knowlton's Rangers from Connecticut.

To honor this man and the unit he served, the New Windsor Cantonment is presenting a series of concerts to the public on Nathan Hale Day, Sunday, July 6.

The featured attractions will be the famed Nathan Hale Ancient Fifes and Drums of the 19th Connecticut Regiment of Foot, and Knowlton's Rangers, a militia unit of the Brigade of the American Revolution.

Knowlton's Rangers are a precision unit, authentic in dress, portraying the hit and run tactics of their Revolutionary founders.

The Ancient Fifes and Drums play authentic music, from the Revolutionary War period, dressed in their distinctive Regimental Uniforms. The unit is famous throughout the East, for its excellence in performance. They have participated in the Deep River Musick Muster and the Eastern States Exposition. On June 22 they won the Grand Review of Ancient Martial Musick at the New Windsor Cantonment.

The New Windsor Cantonment, a living museum at nearby Vail's Gate of the last encampment of Washington's Army 1782-1783, is presenting its first Nathan Hale Day. It should be an exciting experience for young and old alike.

MAKING HER AMERICAN film debut is Ingrid Pitt, here sharing a scene with Richard Burton, who plays a Wehrmacht officer, in the movie "Where Eagles Dare." Film fans can see it currently at the Sunset Drive-In on Route 28.

THREE OF THOSE BITTEN by "The Love Bug" in the Walt Disney film of that title are Dean Jones, Michele Lee and Buddy Hackett. The movie is about a car with a soul and the car in question has 17 stand-ins. "Love Bug" is now playing at Kingston's Community Theatre.

and London and marks the movie debut of Ingrid Pitt, a gal who impresses. Small wonder since, in real life, she swam to freedom from East Berlin in 1963. If the pretzel-like plot is sometimes confusing, the movie adheres to the rules of this sort of story-telling right down the line. All of which means there's lots of exciting action, surprise twists that are genuine surprises, and fantastic goings-on.

Live a Little, Love a Little

Movie No. 2 presently at the Sunset Drive-In is another Elvis Presley opus; goes something like this:

Much to his annoyance, photographer Elvis Presley is being pursued by a mixed-up tease (Michele Carey). Though he rejects her, she persists in her sexy maneuvers, appearing in unexpected places in tantalizing degrees of undress, adding to the troubles he's having in secretly holding down two advertising jobs, one with staid Rudy Vallee, the other with a girlie magazine. But his pursuer finally gets him by staging a fake accident that confines her to his room. The settings are posh, the costumes revealing and, naturally, Elvis has chances to sing a bit.

The Love Bug

Family fare a la Walt Disney Productions is currently attracting mom, pop and the little ones to Kingston's Community Theatre.

The Disney people have come up with a whimsical story about a small car that has human emotions and the ability to drive itself.

Playing leading roles in the light comedy are Dean Jones as Jim, a discouraged racing car driver, Buddy Hackett as his kindly mechanic, David Tomlinson as Thorndyke, a pompous car dealer and Jim's closest racing rival, and Michele Lee as the dealer's assistant, Carole. But the real hero is Herbie, a Volkswagen with a heart and mind of its own.

With the little car as his devoted friend, Jim's streak of bad luck vanishes miraculously; he wins races time after time, and Carole falls in love with him. Matters reach a climax in a wild cross-country race through California's Monterey Peninsula, where Herbie survives all attempts on its life by the villainous Thorndyke, and comes through with flying colors, if not exactly in one piece.

Yellow Submarine

Back for a rerun at Woodstock's Tinker Street Cinema is this animated feature with the very mod look of the 1960's. It boasts charming cartoon figures of the Beatles, their own music, a fiesta of color and a barrel of gentle wit.

Plot has Pepperland, peaceful home of the Lonely Hearts Club Band, being attacked by the Blue Meanies, followed by a wonderful escape odyssey in a magical submarine. Geared for adults, teenagers and older children, it is a film in which animation achieves the high level of art.

Younger children will like it, too. At least, our own seven-year-old did; was entranced by the color, movement, sound and animation even if he couldn't actually dig the total ingenuity.

Romeo and Juliet

The much publicized Franco Zeffirelli production of "Romeo and Juliet," focusing on the tragedy of this famous pair, has finally come to Kingston and is now playing at the Mayfair Theatre here.

The romantic meetings of the couple, their daring rebellion against old blood feud, their short, sweet marriage and grievous deaths — all become vividly new with Zeffirelli's fresh casting and spirited direction. For his lovers, he has chosen a boy and a girl (Leonard Whiting and Olivia Hussey), heartbreakingly young and beautiful, who bring innocence and passion to their roles.

There is an immediacy to the drama and a splendor and life to the staging. Memorable scenes crowd the rich picture — noisy streets and markets, the green countryside, the dueling sequences in the ancient courtyard, the display of Renaissance magnificence in the

MOVIES

Where Eagles Dare

In an impregnable fortress-castle, headquarters of the Gestapo and Wehrmacht leaders, high atop a mountain in Bavaria, a vitally important American general is being held prisoner. Under the leadership of Major Smith of British Intelligence (Richard Burton), seven intensively trained agents are sent to rescue the prisoner.

Parachuted to an adjoining mountain in a dense snow storm, their entrance to the castle presents almost insurmountable problems. The only ascent up the cliffs on which it is perched is by guarded cable car, and the village below seethes with German troops. But hang on to your hats, viewers, because these difficulties pale in comparison with what follows in "Where Eagles Dare," one of the films on the double bill currently at Kingston's Sunset Drive-In. The plot becomes as twisted as the corridors of the old castle, with sudden revelations and dangerous crises following each other in quick succession until the invaluable Burton, American commando Clint Eastwood and British agent Mary Ure accomplish the mission in high adventure style.

The film was shot in Austria

Cornwall's Celebration:

A Delightful Musical

"The Odd Couple" is now in its final week at Playhouse-on-the-Hudson in Cornwall-on-Hudson. Area critics have acclaimed this gala opening attraction, praising the entire production with particular notice given the performance of Stuart Pankin and Reuel Olin in the title roles. In addition to the production itself, they also praised the addition of the theatre's new thrust stage and all the new exterior and interior renovations which have combined to make the Playhouse an attractive place to spend an enjoyable summer evening. A burgeoning buffet supper is also served each evening at 7:15 p.m. and the Cocktail Lounger and Roof Garden open at 6:30 p.m.

"Celebration," the Playhouse's second offering of the season, opens Wednesday evening, July 9 at 8:45 p.m. This new musical, written by the creators of "The Fantasticks," is in its first production anywhere since Broadway. Among those in the cast are Reuel Olin, Claudia Lynn, Bob Crandell, and John Calvin. This delightful musical promises to become a Playhouse favorite and will run two weeks through July 20.

Phone reservations for "The Odd Couple" and "Celebration" are accepted daily. Call 534-8823.

Capulet ball and banquet. Subtleties of behavior make 16th century youth and its elders believable characters by present standards, and the conflict between old prejudices and young attitudes becomes as modern as today's reactions.

You'll leave the Mayfair Theatre after this momentous experience with the full realization that the generations misunderstood each other then as now.

If It's Tuesday,
This Must Be Belgium

This vibrant comedy has already played several theaters in the area but, if you missed it, see it now at Rosendale's movie house.

It's far better than average film fare; all about a bus-load of American tourists whizzing hilariously through Europe in search of instant culture. Shepherded by a jaded young Englishman (Ian McShane) these typical travellers include an ex-G.I., reliving his World War II experiences; a lost wife and her frantic mate; a couple of energetic widows determined not to miss a single moment of what's going on; an industrious postcard writer and her husband; and others.

There's a nice side interest love story and some gorgeous film footage of London, Amsterdam, the Rhine, Rome and other continental high spots. —(BY TOBIE GEERTSEMA)

ELVIS MEETS A GIRL (Michele Carey) on the beach in "Live A Little, Love A Little" and she drastically changes the Presley life — for the worse. Her first act is literally forcing him to move into her home. It's all part of the double bill at the Sunset Drive-In currently.

HURLEY'S HOUGHTALING HOUSE, now owned by Ernest LeFevre, was probably built in the 1790's; occupied by the Houghtaling family for three generations. Gigantic ceiling beams criss-cross the living room with a depth of 15 to 17 inches and a breadth of 7 to 9 inches. Blazing fireplace is the center of attention with its spinning wheel, coal bucket, kerosene lamp and old clock. (Photo by Joseph M. Pfommer).

Come to Hurley's Stone

With stone walls well over 18 inches thick, and sturdy, hand-hewn beams, this is a fine example of a wealthy burgher's town residence.

Erected in 1723, the Jan Van Deusen house was the temporary capitol of the State of New York after the burning of Kingston in 1777. Legislators met in a secret room under the eaves, accessible from a kitchen stairway, to prevent detection by the British. Of particular note here are the latch and knocker combination of the front door, the products of an ingenious, long-gone Hurley blacksmith. Miss Ruth Waterbury is the present owner.

Although it seems impossible to believe today, the Nieuw Dorp was reported to have been in need of repairs in 1793! The original doors, mantels and hardware are seen throughout this charming home, now owned by Miss Nellie Davenport and Mrs. Helen Anderson. Once inhabited by a wheelwright, his whirling stones and cooling trough are still "in use" — one as a stoop, the other as a bird bath!

Miss Margery Larson is the owner of what was formerly known as Houghtaling's Tavern — where George Washington was accorded a reception on a rainy morning in November, 1782. Regrettably, 'tis said that the General sat astride his horse in the downpour, while Judge Ten Eyck, who delivered the oration, addressed the distinguished visitor from the shelter of a nearby porch!

Once these have been visited, return to the Education Building of the Hurley Reformed Church, where the excellent cooks of Hurley will offer a cafeteria-style luncheon, featuring turkey and ham salad boats, potato salad, hot dogs — (for the kiddies!) — beverages, and delectable home-made desserts.

Shuttle buses will run to the out-lying homes, with one scheduled to make the run every 15 minutes. Among the homes along this route are the Houghtaling house, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest LeFevre, where massive, hand-hewn beams in the living room measure 22 feet by 16 inches. Charmingly furnished, the home is a delight to behold.

The Mattys Ten Eyck home, built prior to 1750 is thoroughly Dutch. Today, the house and land of the original grant are "wedded" again and through the diligence of the present owners, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Paul Jr., the home is an outstanding one to see on the tour. In the front hall, the second largest fireplace in Ulster County, complete with original andirons, is one of only five or six such remaining in the United States. Forged in Hurley at the Nieuw Dorp, they have always been in the house. Note, too, the beam irons in the outer walls, which go through the beams to the inside, and are said to "hold the house together." In former times, the upper story was used for storage, and the granary doors are still in place.

Across the road, the Garrett Newkirk house boasts a rare bee-hive oven, which extends through the foundation, in a conical shape on the outer side, hence its name. The front part of the home was built first, with its beams running north and south; the kitchen, added a bit later, has beams running east and west. Mr. and Mrs. John Hoffer will be your hosts here for a tour of their home.

Built about 1799, the Johannis DuBois home has its original fireplace in the dining room, and the original flooring. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones have a collection of old oil lamps and "Flow Blue" plates which will be of particular interest here.

On a dirt cellar floor in the Colonel Gerardus Hardenburg home, a slave girl named Isabella was born — she who was destined to tramp the country in the 1860's, pleading the cause of her people, from whence came her better-known name, Sojourner Truth. Sharing platforms with leading abolitionists of the day, she did much to help crystallize Northern determination against slavery. Owned today by Mrs. L. T. Schoonmaker, this home was built about 1760, on land originally granted by George III.

King's Pine English

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Murphy's home, traditionally known as the Abram Elmen-dorf house, was built about 1780 and unlike others of the village, is of three-story English architecture. Floors throughout are the originals, containing some of what was known as "King's Pine" — as boards over 21 inches wide were, in those days, designated for the crown. Many examples of colonial hardware are to be seen in this home, which is situated on an old Indian encampment and many of the artifacts taken from this property are now housed in the Museum of Natural History in New York. The old well in the rear was made of what were originally ballast bricks.

'Very Brave,' Say Ionesco, of Actors

Just up the Thruway and across the state line at Stockbridge, Mass., one of the greatest playwrights of our time is currently in residence. Famed French dramatist, Eugene Ionesco, has just arrived in Stockbridge to participate in the production of the American premiere of his new play, "Hunger and Thirst."

The play, in three episodes opens at the Berkshire Theatre Festival in Stockbridge on Wednesday, July 16, and TEMPO would have to insist that the slightly-over-an-hour drive to this neighboring theatre should be well worth the effort for this auspicious occasion.

In a short address to the "Hunger and Thirst" company on his arrival, Ionesco said "It is very brave of you to produce my complicated work." The playwright's remarks were translated for the group by a member of the Festival staff.

All-Star Cast

James Patterson who won a Tony award for his performance in last season's "The Birthday Party," Ruth Ford and William Prince head the cast. Miss Ford starred in Tyrone Guthrie's production of "Dinner at Eight" on Broadway two seasons ago and Prince was seen in O'Neill's "Strange Interlude" with Geraldine Page.

Arthur Storch, who directed Murray Schisgal's "The Typist and the Tiger" off-Broadway and most recently "Waiting for Godot" at the Charles Street Playhouse in Boston is directing. Special choreographic elements will be staged by Julie Arenal. Miss Arenal recently was choreographer for the Broadway hit musical "Hair."

Richard Peaslee, who composed scores for Peter Brook's "Marat/Sade" and most recently for Arthur Kopit's highly successful "Indians" at Washington's Arena Stage will write the music for "Hunger and Thirst." Settings will be by William Pitkin who designed the Joffrey Ballet's "Konservatoriet" this past season. Pitkin also designed the settings for "Adaptation-Next" both at the Festival and in its off-Broadway production.

Tickets for "Hunger and Thirst" are available at the Berkshire Theatre Festival box office at the playhouse in Stockbridge. The telephone number is (413) 298-5536.

Ulster County's All-American

About hobbies she says: "I think I'll try to do just about anything . . . that's probably my biggest hobby. I like to sew and design clothes. I make nearly all my own. I have an insatiable passion for skiing. I enjoy cooking, reading, playing the clarinet, tennis, and scuba diving. I love to travel, learning about and meeting new people. "My favorite colors are turquoise blue or powder blue. I like bright colors as long as they are well coordinated so as not to be gaudy."

On lack of respect for parents she says: "I think the lack of respect for parents is frightening. I think parents are being placed in an ambiguous position. If they are totally lenient, a young person may easily fall under bad influence. Yet if they attempt to prevent the effect of bad influence by being totally strict, the young person is likely to rebel completely. I think the most important thing a parent can do to retain their children's respect is to first recognize their individuality and maturity, and then point out the different paths they might take illustrating each path with its ultimate result."

On wigs she said: "I think wigs are great. I know they save me quite a bit of time especially when getting ready for a dinner date or some other formal occasion. I don't think they change a woman's personality but they may enhance certain points. A wig may add an extra touch of self-confidence and thus make a more interesting person. I believe a woman's personality is her most important asset and if a wig can help her to better display her true personality, then I'm all for them."

Miss Knight has only a little more than a month left to enjoy her reign. On Saturday, Aug. 23 she will relinquish her crown to the new Miss Ulster County. Twelve county young ladies have already signed up to participate in this year's local pageant. But it wouldn't surprise TEMPO if another reign followed for Diana as Queen of the State or Miss America of the year to come.

An Invitation To Adventure

Now that sunny summertime . . . made to enjoy and delight in . . . is here again, Brotherhood, America's oldest winery, presents its summer tour schedule.

Starting June 30, free guided tours will run from 10 to 4 o'clock Monday through Saturday, and Friday evenings from 7:45 to 8:15.

The historic little winery, which is only about an hour's drive from Kingston, will also be open July Fourth with tours offered from 10 to 4 o'clock and that evening from 7:45 to 8:15.

Going Underground

During the tours, guides take visitors through Brotherhood's underground cellars, largest in the United States, to see the huge century-old casks of wine and vaults of champagne. Tourists hear highlights of the history and romance of wine-making and practical pointers on today's use of wine in cooking and serving. A free wine-tasting is a feature of each tour.

Visitors are advised to bring their sweaters, even on the hottest days, since the temperature in the aging cellars scarcely varies from its cool 50 degrees, winter or summer.

To reach Brotherhood, take the New York Thruway to Exit 16 (Harriman). Follow Route 6-17 (Quickway) 2½ miles. Turn off at Exit 130 and follow Route 208 to Washingtonville.

For a free brochure with map and year-around schedule, write Brotherhood Wine Cellars, Washingtonville, New York, 10992. The winery is always closed Sundays.

Dining Out

On the theory that more than a few Tempo readers will find themselves in Connecticut for one reason or another this summer, this column delves this week into some of the more meritorious eating establishments in that state.

Matter of fact, we've received via phone and letter for suggestions on dining in Connecticut from a goodly number of persons who plan to beach it, batch it or vacation o'er Connecticut way. Our research shows the following restaurants are among the most sought out by residents of The Nutmeg State and visitors to its shores and villages:

THE ELMS INN in Ridgefield is noted for its gourmet delicacies in a gracious dining atmosphere.

FOX HILL INN, also in Ridgefield and along Route 7 as is The Elms, is the place to go if you're out on an antiquing tour. It's a stately colonial mansion in the heart of the antique dealing area—and it serves continental cuisine for lunch and dinner.

SILVERMINE, off the Merritt Parkway at Norwalk, is so arranged that one may dine on traditional favorites by a millpond and a sparkling waterfall. Both lunch and dinner are served here at prices varying from $3.60 to $6.95.

CLAM BOX, in Westport, is a favorite Connecticut emporium of the author. We're always ready and willing to make the drive for the fantastic seafood served there; can assure you there's nothing like it! It's on the Boston Post Road after exiting from the Connecticut Turnpike, and one menu is served all day. Children's plates are also available.

STONEHENGE, another fabulous restaurant in Ridgefield, is off Route 7 on Stonehenge Road. There is no more charming Americana dining available anywhere. Considered one of Connecticut's very best eating places, it serves lunch from $3.25 up, and $8.50 is the dinner prix fixe. Don't miss the excellent shrimp in beer if you ever get this far afield!

COBB'S MILL INN on Weston Road in Weston is another place where one can enjoy traditional fare by a splashing waterfall. And this spot is equally delightful not matter what the season with its enchanting atmosphere where swans and ducks abound on the small pond.

FAGAN'S is a must if you're going to Stratford to attend the Stratford Shakespearean Theatre. Stop here for a delightful meal before seeing the play. Quick service is assured for those in a hurry; lunches are a low $1.50 to $2.50, and dinner runs anywhere from $3.50 to $5.95.

THE HOMESTEAD INN is set in a lovely residential section of Greenwich near a picturesque road called Horseneck Lane. If you're travelling on the Connecticut Turnpike, take Exit 3, make a left on Horseneck and another left to Field Point Road. The menu here is truly international and lunch is served buffet style.

MERMAID TAVERN is last but not least. At Stratford in the Stratford Motel, it has Elizabethan menu and decor right down to the waiters' costumes. (T.G.)

Art Fair at Saratoga

The 14th annual Saratoga Springs Art Fair will make a major change this year. The opening day outdoor show, on July 13, will be held in a new location, the patio and surrounding grounds of the Gideon Putnam Hotel at Saratoga Spa.

In announcing the Art Fair committee's decision to change the opening day locale from Congress Park, a spokesman said "the move is from one lovely setting to another. It will give us opportunity to show artists and art lovers the beauty of the Spa, home of the internationally-known Saratoga mineral water baths and of the cultural jewel, the Saratoga Performing Arts Center."

As previously planned, the indoor exhibit of the Fair again will be held in the Canfield Casino in Congress Park. The indoor show will comprise approximately 60 of the best works from the outdoor show, including seven cash prize winners. The awards, to be made without regard to medium, will be $300 for first prize, $200 for second, $100 for third and four of $50 each.

Another feature of this year's Fair, the committee announced, will be the exhibits following the show. Portions of the indoor show will be exhibited through August at the Performing Arts Restaurant in the Hall of Springs at the Spa, at the Holiday Inn, Saratoga Springs, and at Some Place Else Restaurant in Schuylerville, N. Y.

POTPOURRI

By JOAN L. WOINOSKI

It's a small world! Jessie Wollersteig, Sarah Townsend, Ruth Clair, vacationing in sunny Italy, bumped into local newlyweds, Charlie and Lorraine Rignall on the steps of new sacristy at San Lorenzo . . . Mary Boyle, recently home from hospital, received standing ovation from local bowlers at Tommy's Restaurant; they probably like her or something! . . . You knew the Legion building in Port Ewen was sold, but did you know it was destined to be a restaurant? Ernie Guido of Frank's Pizzeria is new owner and hear tell Ship Lantern's chef is in on act, too. Our wish to new proprietor: instant success.

Jim Thompson held open house Saturday, returning invites to all his past hosts. And there were many: Bob Diamond, Hugh Reynolds, Don MacIsaac, Jack St. John, Dave Rylance, Mohican's Bob Callan. Practically half the Dr. Anthony Mauceri family was there and that's a good percentage; Larry Quilty was a knockout in lime green iridescent slacks, rust sports coat, white shoes; former WGHQ General Manager Bill Matthews (now with WNEW) wore madras pants which matched Ward Ingalsbe's madras coat, but clashed with Clark Bell's psychedelic tie. (Party wasn't stag; better-halves were there, too.) Guests did double takes thinking they were being served by Jack Nicklaus, but bartender just looks that way; actually, he was local golfer George Hughes. Tillie Cordts Davenport on her way to Ski Minne dinner—finale event of Stone Ridge Library Fair—came clad in colorful culottes which in Jim's words was the "best looking outfit I ever saw." Is it any wonder local pubs were quiet that night; everybody was at Jim's. And he readied the buffet himself with a few asides from family distaff members. Frank and Dordie Vogt babysat at their summer home with Jim's dog so there were no casualties at the party.

Kingston's Florence Nettleton feted on 80th birthday at Al's Seafood Restaurant in Phoenixia. Husband Felix gifted her with styrafoam cake mounted on top of styrafoam piano; when piano was moved, 80 one-dollar bills attached to gas-filled balloon were released and hung suspended from ceiling to table. It was a work of art and a labor of love by a talented gentleman whose get-up-and-go never went. Why a piano motif? Before operating beauty salon near Chic's Rendezvous, Mrs. N. was quite a pianist, especially active during silent movie era. Last week she was picking up where she left off at Liguori's Restaurant in Rosendale. Mrs. N., you know, is grandmere of organist Howard Houghtaling who, by the way, will soon open his own organ-piano studio on Albany Avenue.

If you spotted Leo Kay standing while eating lunch, it's because of 45-mile horseback ride one recent Sunday with Detective Floyd Krom and upholsterer Walt Whipple. Either Leo will have to ride better or Walt will have to cushion the saddle. . . .

I Do! I Do!

Woodstock Playhouse has obtained the exclusive stock rights for a production of the hit musical, I DO! I DO! Based on the long-running play, "The Fourposter," the musical version of the comedy drama had a long run, too, with Mary Martin and Robert Preston in the leads on Broadway, following Jessica Tandy and Hume Cronyn in the non-musical version.

The marvelous musical will be presented as the final show of the season this summer at the art colony theater. It's booked to run from Aug. 26 through Sept. 1 at Woodstock by special agreement with legendary Broadway producer, David Merrick, and Music Theatre International Inc.

Two leading theatrical personalities have been signed to appear in the tune-filled musical at the Playhouse. They are Stanley Grover and Frances Wyatt. The show will be staged by Harold Baldrige and musi-

That Lyrical Concert Under the Stars

The first of two scheduled summer performances by the talented and delightful Mid-Hudson Madrigal Singers is set for Maverick Hall in Woodstock on Wednesday, July 9, at 8:30 p. m.

Appearing as guest artist with the lyrical Madrigal Singers will be Sonia Malkine, who has become nationally known and appreciated for her interpretations of troubador songs of 12th Century France.

In addition to performances at many colleges and folk music festivals, Sonia Malkine has presented a two-year series of radio concerts in New York City, and three series of her own television programs are now being presented on educational TV networks throughout the United States. Sonia, who accompanies herself on the lute, has also recorded two albums for the Folkways/Scholastic label. Following her appearance with the Madrigal Singers she will perform at the Newport Folk Festival this month. In the opinion of High Fidelity magazine, "Sonia Malkine's light, true voice and the intimacy of her style are perfectly adapted to the fragile loveliness of these French songs."

Their Second Season

The Madrigal Singers, returning to the prestigious Maverick for their second season there, have presented a highly successful series of performances during the past year. Their program with the Hudson Valley Chamber Players at Marist College last December was considered by the school to have been the finest artistic presentation of the year.

Under the talented direction of Beatrice Bright, the Madrigal Singers, who perform in colorful costumes of the Renaissance Era, are contributing significantly to the cultural atmosphere of the Hudson Valley through their concertizing.

Admission for the July 9 performance will be $2.50 for adults and $1.25 for students. Advance reservations may be made at BeeVer House, 82 Partition Street, Saugerties, or tickets may be purchased at the door of the rustic old Maverick Hall, Maverick Road, Woodstock.

STAMPS

Rarities in a Gem-Like Setting

Stamps now have status.

An elegant gallery devoted to the exclusive display of stamps and coins will be open to the public in New York City. Owned and operated by the famed Harmer, Rooke & Co., the new gallery will exhibit more than $2 million worth of rare stamps and coins. Each rarity will appear in a gem-like museum setting and will carry a price tag.

Said Olin Tice, president of Harmer, Rooke Galleries, "We hope to make this an irresistible showplace for all, even those with a mild interest in stamps or coins. They may go to the Metropolitan to see Rembrandts, but they will come here to enjoy the philatelic and numismatic arts."

To honor the 10th anniversary of the birth of Johan Hjort, famous zoologist and oceanographer, Norway has issued two new stamps. Each stamp will depict a likeness of Hjort whose marine research work was essential to the Norwegian fishing industry. The new stamps simultaneously hail the entire Norwegian fishing industry. The 40 ore stamp is brown and green while the 90 ore is blue and green.

The latest edition of Minkus "Stamp Journal" contains a variety of lively and interesting articles for collectors. One story by Hannah Gilman, entitled "Man's Need to Communicate," reveals the history of humans trying to convey messages from the beginning of time including smoke signals and cave writings. Gengis Khan's mail system was so good it lasted 60 years! Other features include a philatelic quiz, "designs that didn't make it," a background yarn on Cyprus stamps and a special story on topical collecting—seashells on stamps, hotels on stamps and paintings on stamps.

The Stamp Journal costs 50 cents and can be obtained directly from the publisher at 116 W. 32nd St., New York, N.Y. 10001.

The Territory of Papua and

New Guinea will be the host country for the first time at the Third South Pacific Games to be held at Port Moresby from Aug. 13 to 23. To commemorate this event, the territory will issue three new stamps. One stamp will show a yachting race; another will depict the games' swimming pool; the third will illustrate the main games arena in the suburbs of Port Moresby.

DID YOU KNOW THAT... common surname of Smith appears only twice on U.S. stamps—Alfred E. Smith (governor of New York and Democratic candidate for the presidency in 1928) and Capt. John Smith (of colonial fame). . . . Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial stamps have been issued recently by such countries as Western Samoa, Virgin Islands and the Turks and Caicos Islands.

For a 96-page booklet, "Amazing but True Stories Behind the Stamps," including a packet of 50 stamps from far-away lands, send 75 cents to "Stamp Booklet," Name of This Paper, c/o H. E. Harris & Co., Box 2, AP, Boston, Mass.
